For the second successive day the forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur have smashed back Japan's all-out offensive on the Luzon front, the War Department revealed today.

The announcement added that the American forces have begun to carry the battle to the invaders by bombing Japanese posts in the Dutch East Indies.

American bombing planes blasted a Japanese naval concentration in the area of Tarakan northeast of Borneo, a War Department communique said.

The War Department explained the foray was conducted in co-operation with forces of The Netherlands Indies and was designed to smash a Japanese landing operation.

Three American bombers executed the blow, destroying two landing boats.

This operation, first directed against Jap forces in the Indies area, was made during "unfavorable weather." The American planes returned undamaged to their undisclosed base.

The Japs stabbed in two reconnaissance drives at Gen. MacArthur's fortified line in north Bataan, and, according to the communique, "were repulsed by our troops, with the Japanese suffering heavy losses."

Casualties in the American-Filipino ranks were "comparatively small," the War Department said.

SUSTAINED EFFORT

The Jap attacks, part of a sustained exhaustive effort to smash through the defender's previously arranged positions, were supported by air and artillery assault, the War Department announced.

Installations of Japanese bases at Mindanao and Jolo, military observers pointed out, would place Japanese aircraft within easy flight to both the Indies and Singapore.

These plans of the invaders became apparent more than a week ago.

REDS STILL FORCING NAZIS BACK

Moscow

Jan. 14 (AP)

Official News

A military writer in Izvestia said today that Russian capture of Gorokhovo near Mzhaisk had eliminated the "last zone of positional warfare on the Moscow front" and the "whole Moscow front is now in motion."

Gorokhovo was taken in the course of more than a month of a counter-offensive in which the Red Army attacked along a line between Gorokhovo and Kubinka which extended across the Moscow-Mzhaisk highway.

At the same time the Germans' Mzhaisk salient was menaced more than ever by the capture of Kirov, about 100 miles southwest of Mzhaisk.

The battle for this rail junction in the heart of the Mzhaisk-Smolensk-Bryansk triangle left the streets littered with Nazi dead, the Russians announced.

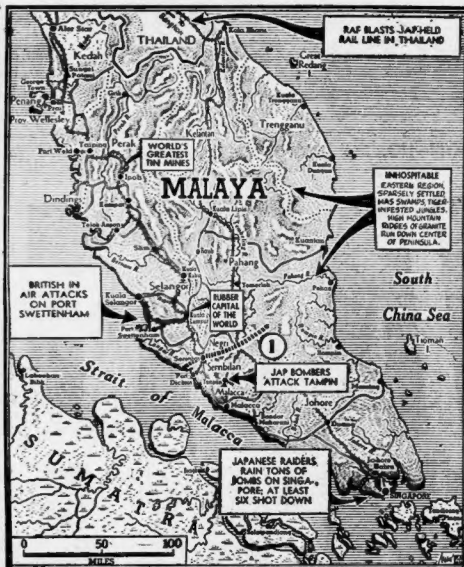

The British radio quoted a Vichy dispatch saying Staraya Russa, near Lake Ilmen 130 miles south of Leningrad, had been restored to Russian control by a

Himmler Ousts Goering as No. 1 Hitler Adviser

BERN, Jan. 14 (INS)—Henrich Himmler, chief of the Nazi Gestapo, has become "Hitler's confidence man, more powerful than Goering" as a result of recent disorders and unrest in the German army, Moscow radio said today.

Himmler has caused 10,000 troops of the Elite SS (Schutzstaffel) to be brought back from the Russian front to Germany to "keep order," Moscow radio said.

BRITISH FALL BACK—Aerial action of both Japanese and British held the spotlight in the battle for Malaya today. Meanwhile, the British land forces are reportedly continuing to withdraw "to positions in the rear" from defense line south of fallen Kuala Lumpur.

BRITISH DESTROY ALL IN MALAYAN RETREAT

Official News

British troops slowly withdrawing toward the narrowest part of the Malay Peninsula left widespread destruction today in the path of Japanese forces pressing hard upon their heels.

Continuation of the British retreat was acknowledged last night in a communique which told of extensive demolition of facilities which might have been employed by the Japanese in their advance.

While the British ground forces battled to stem the Japanese overland drive, the RAF was reported to be stepping up its offensive against air bases from which the invaders have been blasting at Singapore and other targets.

RAF STEPS UP RAIDS

Last night's communique reported destructive RAF raids on many objectives, including Singora in southern Thailand, where several tons of high explosives and incendiaries were said to have been dropped.

The communique also announced that British planes had attacked Port Swettenham on the Malayan

Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander in chief of the new Allied Far East command, has arrived in the Dutch East Indies and already launched a series of dynamic counter-blows against Japanese invasion forces, military dispatches said today.

Gen. Wavell's second in command, Lieut.-Gen. H. Brett, former chief of the U. S. Army Air Corps, arrived at the same time to help direct strategy for the Indies' fighting defense.

Dutch troops were reported moving into action on the border of the "white rajah" kingdom of Sarawak, where Japanese troops had seized the capital, Kuching, and most of the northern territory.

Simultaneously, Dutch warplanes, aided by three American bombers, blasted Japanese-occupied Tarakan island, off the coast of Dutch North Borneo, and a Japanese base in the southern Philippines.

An N. E. I. communique said 18 Japanese were killed in preliminary skirmishes on the Sarawak frontier, with the loss of only one Dutch soldier.

Dutch Indies soldiers were also reported battling hand-to-hand with Japanese invaders near Lake Tondano, on the northeast tip of Celebes island.

A Tokyo broadcast said yesterday that Japanese forces had captured Kakas airdrome at Menado, chief port in Minahasa peninsula, Celebes island, across the Celebes sea from Borneo.

A Netherlands communique indicated a broadened scope of the Japanese attacks, reporting Jap bombers had struck at the big oil port of Balikpapan on the east coast of Dutch Borneo some 300 miles south of the Japanese-occupied Dutch island of Tarakan.

DUTCH BOMBERS HIT BACK—N. E. I. bombers, the Dutch said, hit back with attacks on Japanese vessels in the harbor at Tarakan and on a base in the southern Philippines.

MAJOR OBSTACLES SNARL PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE

Rio De Janeiro, Jan. 14 (AP)

By ALBURN WEST

Twenty-four hours before its first official session, the Pan-American conference of foreign ministers appeared to have struck two obstacles today—Argentina's reluctance to commit herself to any military alliances or "acts of pre-belligerence," and Ecuador's determination to settle her 100-year-old boundary dispute with Peru before entering into any general discussions.

In the behind-the-scenes diplomacy aimed at creating a united Western Hemisphere front against the Axis, Argentina was considered the chief obstacle. Its policy was reaffirmed at Buenos Aires by President Ramon S. Castillo, who said his government could not assent to any "measures of belligerence" which might come before the conference.

It was also learned that Tobari

Donoso, foreign minister of Ecuador, had declared he would not take part in the conference unless a settlement was reached in the boundary dispute with Peru, and which would outline a final agreement.

A third problem had been created by the unswerving determination

WAR COUNCIL FOR PACIFIC WILL OPERATE FROM U. S.

Exclusive Washington Jan. 14 (INS)

By KINGSBURY SMITH

A joint Pacific war council to plan the grand strategy of military, air and naval operations against Japan in the Far East is to be established in Washington shortly.

The council will comprise representatives of the ABCD (America, British, China and the Dutch) united front group in the Pacific, informed officials disclosed today. Australia also is likely to be represented.

China and The Netherlands are sending special military missions to Washington to attend the council meetings.

Purpose of the council will be to plan the major strategy of the war against Japan in the Pacific, including the allocation of supplies and joint unity of action by the ABCD fighting forces.

The council will keep in close touch with the unified Pacific command of British Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell and American Admiral Thomas C. Hart, as well as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, supreme Allied commander in the China theater of operations.

5 Nazi Ship Officers Jailed, 5 Go to Prison

Docile and subdued in sharp contrast to their defiant attitude when first arrested, the captain and four officers of the seized Nazi tanker Pauline Friedrich were given three-year penitentiary sentences in federal court today after pleading guilty to sabotage aboard the vessel while she was tied up at Commonwealth Pier.

HERO HASEY RETURNS—Wearing the uniform of the Free French, Lieut. Jack Hasey of Bridgewater, who fought in the Russ-Finn war and with the Free French in the Syrian campaign, arrives in New York... and is greeted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hasey. Suffering neck and facial wounds, Hasey serves a series of operations, after which he hopes to again serve either with the American or Free French armies.

Five crew members did not plead and were ordered placed in a concentration camp immediately.

The corridors of the 15th floor of Federal Building were barred to all except court attaches and the press as the 19 defendants in the sensational trial were brought in, heavily manacled and guarded by a corps of deputies under U. S. Marshal J. Henry Goguen.

DID THOROUGH JOB

A hushed courtroom heard U. S. Atty. Edmund J. Brandon ask Judge George C. Sweeney for five-year sentences for the entire group. He told in detail of the damage effected aboard the tanker and called it a "very thorough job." Throughout Atty. Brandon's recital, Capt. Ernest Rudolph Heitzmann, 65-year-old skipper of the vessel, sat staring stolidly ahead. He exhibited no emotion as Judge Sweeney pronounced sentence.

Sentenced with Heitzmann, whose home was given as Wesermünde, Germany, were:

Chief Officer Bernard H. Hempen, 42, Bremen-Lesum.
Chief Engineer August Loges, 74, Hamburg.

Second Officer Karl Wilhelm Ehrles, 50, Hamburg.
Third Officer August Wilhelm Damman, 64, Wesermünde.

FIVE SENT TO CAMP

Crew members sentenced to concentration camp:

Kurt Walter Laufer, 32, fireman, Danzig.

Wilhelm F. Bury, 32, fireman, Brummsum, Holland.

Friedrich Guth, 42, oiler, Speyer, Germany.

Herman George Reil, 31, oiler, Oldenberg.

Einar Alfred Wilhelm Ekken, 31, fireman, Varel, Oldenberg.

Immediately after sentence the defendants were whisked away by federal guards. All appeared pale after their 10 months of confinement since the ship was seized.

DREAD TYPHUS SWEEPS NAZI ARMY IN RUSSIA, SPEEDS HITLER'S DOOM

By PETER BARNICLE

The United Nations have been joined by another ally in their fight against the forces of Hitlerism.

An ally more deadly than any secret weapon Hitler ever dreamed of, an ally that strikes terror into the hearts of those who even hear its name mentioned—TYPHUS!

DR. GEORGE C. SHATTUCK
'No Cure for Typhus'

Nurtured in the overcrowded shambles that constitutes the ghetto of bomb-torn Warsaw it smashed, as through paper, the great restraining walls of the district, to spread its dreaded tentacles north and east to the struggling Nazi armies, bogged down in the depths of the Russian winter.

Nazi soldiers, moving through the Polish capital on their way to the eastern front carried the message of death with them—concealed in their clothing.

LICE CARRY GERMS

Lice, the base of a fighting man's life, are carrying the death dealing typhus germs to the German armies in the field and striking them down before the crushing Red offensive can reach them.

(A report that typhus has penetrated Germany itself was published by the London Daily Mirror today. The paper reported from Liden that a German doctor who arrived at the Portuguese capital stated the disease now has reached the large German city of Nuremberg and that Nazi authorities are considering isolating the entire city.)

Dr. George Cheever Shattuck, clinical professor of tropical medicine at Harvard Medical School, pointed out in an interview that Russia and the Baltic countries have been known for some time as a breeding ground of typhus germs.

Dr. Shattuck was a member of the Red Cross Commission which went to Serbia in 1915 to combat the epidemic of typhus then raging there among both soldiers and civilians.

"In Russia," the doctor said, "the disease is quite prevalent. But this does not mean that the present epidemic will strike the Red army as ruthlessly as it might the Nazis."

"In children the disease is felt but to a mild degree, and once a person has had it he becomes immune. Thus it seems likely that quite a number of the men now serving in the Russian army have had the disease as children and are now in no danger of it, while the German soldiers, having never been exposed to the germ, are in great danger."

DEATH RATE SOARS

In epidemics such as those which rage in armies where hygienic control is impossible, mortality rates have been as high as 70 per cent, and it has been found that mortality increases with age.

The typhus germ is transmitted exclusively by lice and, according to Dr. Shattuck, there is as yet no known cure for it.

The lice pick up the germ by biting an infected person and then carry it to another person until it spreads with the rapidity of a prairie fire.

In World War I, lines were stabilized and men could be withdrawn for "delousing." Large installations were erected behind the lines and the soldiers were taken company by company to have their clothes steamed while they bathed.

Today the Nazi forces constantly on the march, involved in a war of movement, and struggling to maintain their lines against the smashing onslaught of Red armies, have no time to take these preventative measures.

Installations are not available, and the human agony of attempting to get soldiers to strip in temperatures of 39 below zero blocks

SALTONSTALL BEGINS PARLEYS ON WAR NEED

Gov. Saltonstall today began the first of a series of conferences on financial and legislative needs to be presented before a special session of the legislature in his message of Jan. 26.

Chief of these were the growing responsibilities of the commonwealth's civilian defense and he promised he would confer with designated leaders of both parties so that the program would be sufficiently broad to meet all emergencies.

In announcing the executive council would be asked to sanction the special session at its Jan. 21st meeting, the Governor said the amount of money he would seek in his first war message would be "considerably less than expected."

He added that after his message, he hoped proper committees could handle appropriations so that a full session would be under way by January 29 and that all matters could be wound up on the day following.

The governor's plans indicated he would submit a smaller program than originally anticipated and, if necessary, call a second special session later, possibly in the fall.

He pointed out that J. Wells Farley, executive director of the Massachusetts committee on public safety, was in Washington today to confer with the office of civilian defense, and it was expected Farley would return with an idea of how much Massachusetts would obtain from the proposed $100,000,000 fund for equipment for civilian defense workers.

The governor said that generally speaking, he would ask for an appropriation sufficient to cover present needs of the civilian defense program and for such legal authority as Atty.-Gen. Bushnell deems necessary.

He indicated that cities and towns would be given general, rather than specific grants of power to act during the emergency, subject to state supervision.

Old Steel Japs Bought Creates U. S. Shortage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—A group of responsible government officials today saw the nation's huge war program threatened in 1942 by a possible shortage of from four to six million tons of scrap steel—the very metal which Japan bought up so avidly here in the pre-war years.

Accordingly, they urged an immediate rummage of the nation's vacant lots, backyards and cellars for all available scrap.

In a special memorandum for circulation among Administration leaders, these officials asserted unless scrap collection were stimulated the 1942 production of steel—so urgently needed for munitions—would be smaller than 1941's.

The supply of scrap steel—an essential to the industry if last year's production is to be surpassed—was said to be so low that at New Year's only one month's supply was on hand.

Shipments of scrap iron and steel to Japan climbed to a peak of 2,035,000 tons in 1939, but in 1940 the United States required export licenses for the scrap and shipments dropped to 963,000 tons. No figures were available for 1941.

DRIVERS RUSH TO BUY AUTO TAX STAMPS

Motorists thronged the Federal building today for their new auto tax stamps, necessary to operate on the highways after February 1. On that date, every automobile must have a $2.09 "Liberty" sticker or the owner is liable to a fine of $25 or imprisonment for 30 days, or both.

The crush of business at the Federal building is scheduled to ease on Friday, when the stamps go on sale at the Boston postoffice and 25 offices in the Boston postal district.

Acting Postmaster John W. Gleavy also announced that the stamps will be ready for sale at second class postoffices on Saturday and that on Monday every postoffice in the state will have them in stock.

In explaining the rules, Internal Revenue Collector Thomas B. Hassett announced the present $2.09 stamp is good only until July 1st, by which time the new $5 stamps—good for one full year—must be purchased. The $5 stamps will be placed on sale June 1st.

In Massachusetts the stamp may be affixed to the windshield, the instrument board or any place readily available to inspection. Stamps issued for use from March 1 to June 1 will cost $1.87 and those who register their machines after April 1 will have only $1.25 to pay up to the June 1 date.

Coast Guard School Classes Start Feb. 1

Classes will start Feb. 1 at the Coast Guard Academy, New London, Ct., in a special four-months course to train cadets for commissions in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve.

The cadets will be trained in groups of 200. Applicants must be between 20 and 30 years of age and possess a college degree.

Newspaper Ads Seen Vital Aid in Defense

Newspaper advertising will play an important part during the war period in building the nation's morale and disseminating vital information to the population.

This was predicted by Elton G. Borton of Chicago, chairman of the board of the Advertising Federation of America, in an address before 300 members of the Advertising Club of Boston at the Hotel Statler.

Elton G. Borton

"As an educational force alone, advertising ought to play a leading part in the defense program," Borton said. "It can assist in creating and maintaining public morale. Those who are expert in it can be of great aid to the government." The speaker forecast changes in the nature of advertising, emphasizing selling less and factual information more.

INCOME TAX AID URGED

Borton urged his listeners to plan and work for the post-war period of adjustment as well as support the Red Cross, War Fund drive and similar movements.

One way in which advertising can be of immediate aid to the country, he suggested, is to warn and instruct the people of the coming income tax payments, due March 15. "Because of defense work, some 2,000,000 families which have never reached an annual income of $1500 now exceed that," he said. "Many persons have not the slightest idea that they will be expected to pay an income tax."

MAKE GOODS LAST

They must also be instructed how to purchase goods properly, he said. Likewise, the white collar group in the main who are not getting pay increases while the cost of living is going up must be warned through advertising to make their possessions last longer. Borton described the functions of advertising in England, where throughout the war newspapers have continued carrying messages of helpful information to the public. The British government has been the largest single purchaser of advertising space in English papers since the war started, he disclosed.

HUB SOCIALITE WILL SPONSOR NEW WARSHIP

From coast to coast, America's expanding Navy today assumed even more formidable proportions with announcement of new launching dates and sponsors by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox.

Included among the sponsors is pretty Gail Nelson of Pinckney st., Beacon Hill socialite, who has been designated for the destroyer MacKenzie, to be launched June 1 at San Pedro, Cal.

She is a cousin, twice removed, of the late Lieut. Alexander S. MacKenzie, for whom the destroyer is named. He was killed in 1867 in Formosa while leading an attack against savages.

Throng gathered at Portsmouth, N. H. for today's launching of the U.S.S. Herring, the first submarine to be launched there since the nation entered the war. The 1700-ton destroyed U.S.S. Forrest was launched yesterday at Boston Navy Yard.

The 10,000-ton cruiser Montpelier, scheduled to be launched Feb. 15, at the New York Shipbuilding Corp., Camden, N. J., will have Mrs. William F. Corry, wife of the mayor of Montpelier, Vt., as sponsor.

Another destroyer, the U. S. S. Hutchins, will be launched at the Boston Navy Yard, March 1. Designated as sponsor was Mrs. Carleton B. Hutchins, wife of a naval lieutenant for whom the vessel was named. Lieut. Hutchins was killed in an airplane accident while on tactical exercises with the fleet in 1935.

Coakley Witness Freed on Bail

Willard R. Starke, 32, of Boylston st., Jamaica Plain, a witness in the recent Coakley ouster proceedings, today was free in $2000 bail following arrest on a charge of attempted extortion of $200 from a Waltham man.

Starke was arrested after indictment by the Suffolk County grand jury and furnished bail at Charles st. jail. Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doyle said no trial date had been set.

According to authorities, Starke sought the $200 under threat of exposing an allegedly improper love affair between the Waltham man and a prominent Back Bay woman. The woman, told of what had happened, went to her brother and the pair notified Atty. Gen. Robert T. Busnell.

Today's U. S. Communique

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The War Department's communique, No. 58, based on reports received up to 9:30 a. m. (E.S.T.) follows:

"1—Philippine theater: The enemy yesterday made two determined attacks which were in the nature of reconnaissances in force. These attacks were well supported by artillery and aircraft. Both were repulsed by our troops, with the Japanese suffering heavy losses. American and Philippine casualties were comparatively small.

"Hostile air operations were confined to support of ground troops. No attacks were made on our fortifications.

"Reports received from Mindanao and Jolo indicate the Japanese are establishing advance bases in these islands from which to support attacks on Malaya and the Netherlands Indies.

"2—Netherlands Indies: Three American bombing planes, co-operating with the forces of the Netherlands Indies, attacked a Japanese naval force engaged in landing operations in the Takan area of Borneo. Unfavorable weather conditions made it difficult to determine the results of the attack. However, it is known that two enemy lighters were destroyed. Our planes returned to their base undamaged.

"3—There is nothing to report from other areas."

leniency. He recommended all be sent to an internment camp rather than prison.

"It is a glorious thing to deal mercifully with our enemies," he declared.

Johnston, who was assisted by Atty. Arthur P. Teele, told Judge Sweeney there was "no moral guilt" by the defendants.

"They should not be made responsible for the moral philosophy of their leaders," he said. "These men merely carried out orders."

Johnston made a special plea for leniency toward 74-year-old Chief Engineer Loges. He stressed the man's "advanced" age and asked special consideration be given him. Continuing his fight for light sentences, he warned "trouble might result if these men are placed in jails." He said he had been told by a prison official irresponsible fellow-inmates might "cause them injustice" now that our country is at war with their native land.

SEIZED IN 1941

The Nazi tanker, which sought sanctuary in Boston at the outbreak of war in Sept., 1939, was seized March 30, 1941, by Coast Guardsmen, acting on direct orders of President Roosevelt.

Simultaneously, 28 other vessels, including an Italian freighter in Boston, were taken over by the government in other American ports.

The dramatic raid frustrated carefully laid plans to burn the vessel, but did not prevent the Germans from smashing every piece of machinery aboard.

IN U. S. SERVICE NOW

The vessel was recently placed in commission again after more than $400,000 in repairs had been effected. She is now in the service of the U. S. government.

The saboteur, Coast Guard officials said, was the most extensive ever seen. The main driving shaft had been cut, engine castings hacked, pipes, generators, condensers and pumps rendered useless by sledge and torches.

Oil had been poured in the bilges to provide quick burning fuel for a saboteur's torch.

She carried a cargo of 1,764,600 gallons of oil when she entered port in 1939 but this was taken over early in 1940 and transferred to an American oil tanker.

Capt. Heitzmann and his crew were held temporarily at East Boston Immigration Station where they sullenly defied authorities and greeted each other with "Hell, Hitler" and saluted with the stiff-arm movement of Nazis.

British Admit Peril Grows In Malaya

By JAMES E. BROWN

LONDON, Jan. 14 (INS)—British troops still are withdrawing in Malaya, military authorities in London conceded today.

The situation on the Malayan mainland must be considered "very, very grave," it was stated.

Informed British quarters made no effort to conceal their belief that the Japanese threat to Singapore is a perilous one.

In the absence of detailed communications from Singapore, statements regarding the present status of the British defenders are mere guesswork, it was stressed.

Informed quarters said they had no news to support any hope that the tired and seriously outnumbered imperial forces in Malaya can halt their southward retreat at present.

There was considerable unofficial speculation in London regarding the water situation on Singapore island. It was understood the island's main water works are situated adjacent to the mainland and that the water is piped across the causeway.

Although it was felt some better provision must have been made, there was an undercurrent of anxiety lest the Singapore water situation provide the same difficulties that eventually caused the surrender of Hongkong.

Speed of the British retreat is causing anxiety in London.

Nevertheless, authoritative quarters emphasized the defense of the great British base will "not be a haphazard affair."

"It will begin well on the outer lines of the (Malayan) mainland," they said, "and every inch of ground will be contested."

With a vital battle in the offing, British newspapers dropped their bitter condemnations of the "Singapore incompetents."

Instead, they confined themselves to urging that every effort be made to send reinforcements to Singapore island to prevent it from becoming "another Hongkong."

MALAYA RETREAT CONTINUES

State, about 150 miles from Singapore.

But as the battle lines approached Singapore the front which the British are called upon to defend was being gradually shortened.

At Seremban the peninsula is approximately 120 miles wide, but 60 miles to the south it narrows to 80 miles.

(It is conceivable that the British might be planning to make a stand on this neck, with the western end of their line anchored on the mouth of the Muar River, about 90 miles north of Singapore.)

Advices from the front indicated the Japanese were making their main push down the middle of the peninsula, along the railway from Seremban to Singapore, and in the coastal area to the west.

There was no official mention of activity on the east coast, where the Japanese last were reported at Kuantan, 160 miles from the Johore strait. Lack of highway facilities in the sector makes military operations there difficult.

British headquarters reported today that about 15 casualties were inflicted by Jap bombers which raided Singapore yesterday, but declared damage as small.

The raid was carried out by 30 heavy bombers, escorted by 20 naval fighters, a communique said. One Japanese plane was shot down, three more "probably" were destroyed and several others damaged, the bulletin declared.

LA GUARDIA IN QUANDARY ON WHICH JOB TO KEEP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—Fiorello H. LaGuardia said today he soon would have to decide whether he would continue as mayor of New York or as civilian defense director.

LaGuardia told a House commit-

The visitor from the West a few years ago just knew his Boston friends were giving him the "rib" when they suggested swordfish for dinner.

"Swordfish steak?" he replied. "Sure thing! And let's have a nice slice of shark or whale meat to go with it."

But this situation isn't so common, today. Too many folks in Dubuque, Denver, Dallas and other points South and West have "discovered" New England's prize seafood delicacy right at home. Thanks to quick-freezing and 40-Fathom, broiled swordfish steaks are now always "in season" right across the country.

tee he wanted to stay on as a defense chieftain until Congress finally passed a bill authorizing appropriations for the work and another bill, still in the making, to provide for compensation for civilian defense workers injured at their tasks.

"Then," he said, "I will either have to give up the job of mayor of the city of New York and take the civilian defense job, or I can give up the OCD and go back to New York and mind my own business and criticize what is going on in Washington, or I can do what I did in the last war, if I could get by."

The mayor was an air corps major in the last war.

The committee is considering how best to protect health and to maintain morale in the country. LaGuardia, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, his assistant in the defense job, James M. Landis, new OCD director, and Paul V. McNutt, director of defense health, were asked to present their views.

Canada to Issue Off-Duty Uniforms

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 14 (AP)—New "walking out" uniforms will be issued to Canadian soldiers early in March for off duty and for special occasions.

The new regulation khaki serge uniforms are in addition to the regulation battle dress. They are cut similarly to the jackets and slacks worn by officers, "even to the brass-buttoned cloth belt." A brown tie, black socks and black shoes will be issued, along with a waterproof coat.

BOY SCOUTS RUSH TO SIGN FOR SPECIAL DEFENSE JOBS

Boy Scouts and youth of Greater Boston today flocked to the civilian defense forces for special services which are to be a part of their contribution in the war crisis.

What they can do and how they are to do it was discussed by the Adult Leaders Council of the "Y" Boys' Associates at a meeting at the Y.M.C.A. It was announced that instruction in messenger service during air raids and disasters and other courses for the job ahead will begin at the "Y" the first week in February.

DISCUSS TASKS

John H. Lehman of Boston, associate state secretary of the Y. M. C. A.'s of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and Abel J. Gregg, national boys' work secretary of the Y. M.

C. A., were guest speakers and discussed the problems confronting youth and how youth might be of service to his country.

Lehman said the task of the leaders was to help establish poise and morale among the boys.

"We are going through a period similar to that of the first World War," he said. "One of our greatest jobs we as Christians of an American democracy have before us is to make our youth understand what makes democracy work."

POST-WAR PLANS

He also stressed a preparation for the peace that will follow the war, saying the kind of peace will depend upon the boys who are the citizens of tomorrow. To fit boys' work to match the times special courses are to be given to boys from 11 to 18 years consisting of shop work, courier service and work in a V garden on the Cabot Reservation, Waltham.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Norton Fahie was to be held from her late home, Fort Hill st., Hingham, today, with a requiem high mass at St. Paul's Church, Hingham, at 9 a. m.

Mrs. Fahie, wife of Anthony J. Fahie, retired after long service at the United States naval ammunition depot, Hingham, died last Sunday after a brief illness. A native of Galway, Ireland, she has resided in Hingham throughout her 47 years of married life.

JEEP CARS MAY BE SOLD TO U. S. PUBLIC

By W. F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—A civilian counterpart of the Army "jeep"—with certain refinements as a concession to comfort—was suggested today by officials of the National Automobile Dealers Association as a possible answer to the new car shortage.

The suggestion came from L. Clare Cargile, Texarkana, Texas, president of the association, and Arthur Center, Springfield, Mass., its secretary, as a House committee resumed hearings on the effect of new car production curtailment on the nation's 44,000 dealers.

"It would be built primarily for service, not for looks, and to meet a need for transportation when present cars wear out and comparable replacements are not available," said Center. "It would be strictly an economy car, with six cylinders and low upkeep."

NO ACCESSORIES

It would be large enough for five passengers, maybe with a little crowding, and would be devoid of costly accessories, nickel or chrome trim and other gadgets adding to cost.

"It would be built primarily for service, not for looks, and to meet a need for transportation when present cars wear out and comparable replacements are not available," said Center. "It would be strictly an economy car, with six cylinders and low upkeep."

PRICE UNDER $1000

Cargile said the automobile industry, despite the conversion of much of its machinery for the production of airplanes and other defense material, could make enough victory cars to meet essential needs, and still not interfere with defense requirements.

The jeep-in-muffin should be made to sell for less than $1000, he added, and could be made available to the public under a limited rationing order so that anyone who actually needed a car, regardless of his priority rating under present regulations, could obtain one.

RECLAIMED RUBBER TIRES

"Probably a few hundred thousand a year could be made," he said.

"They could be distributed through existing dealer distribution channels on a proportionate basis, and would go a long way toward solving the civilian transportation problem, and at the time help keep in business thousands of dealers who, from the looks of things now, may be forced to shut down."

Tires for the cars could be built of reclaimed rubber, advocates of the civilian jeeps declared.

Peril to Britain Cited Should Malta Fall

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

British military experts read in the concentration of Nazi warplanes and troops in Sicily the possibility of a full-dress attack on Britain's great aero-naval base at Malta—an operation which might constitute part of a general Axis offensive to seize control of the Mediterranean.

That might well be, for any campaign which Hitler undertakes in the near future, while he has vast forces tied up in Russia, will be largely aerial. Also, if he could gain domination of the Mediterranean he would have inflicted on his enemy a disaster so terrible that he would have made a mighty stride toward winning the war.

The big island of Malta—with its area of 95 square miles and population of a quarter million—lies about halfway between the western and eastern gateways to the Mediterranean, Gibraltar and the Suez Canal. That in itself is important, but its strategic strength rests largely in the fact it commands the narrow passage—about 90 miles wide—between Sicily and Cape Bon, in French Tunisia on the African coast.

KEY BRITISH POSITION

Virtually all shipping must sail through that little gap, and dip its ensign respectfully to the boss.

Naturally Malta long has been a key position for the British, though its strength as a naval base has been weakened because of the striking power developed by the airforces in this war.

The harbor of Valetta is one of the finest in the world and is equipped with everything a naval base requires, but concentration of ships there is a risky business, since there are several air-bases on Italian soil only a few moments flight from the island.

Malta has one of those so-called impregnable fortresses, such as boasted by Singapore and Gibraltar, but like all citadels these days is susceptible to air attack and may be rendered useless as a base for ships. However, it has at least two airbases from which bombing raids can be counter-attacked and returned, and from which shipping can be bombed.

LOSS WOULD BE GRAVE NOW

The loss of this base to the Axis would have several grave effects on the British position. For instance, if the Germans could capture the island and utilize its airbases in conjunction with the Italian airbases in nearby Sicily, it might enable the Axis to cut the Mediterranean in two.

This would sever connection between the eastern and western portions of the British fleet. That would force the British to go round Africa to move supplies through the Suez canal to the eastern Mediterranean and to reach the Far East.

Such a development would be a mighty assistance to Japan, and may represent a contribution which Hitler has in mind for his ally.

Possession of Malta also would facilitate passage of Axis transports and supply ships to Tripoli—invaluable if the Germans should be able to take over the French colonies in northern Africa.

But while many benefits would accrue to Hitler if he possessed Malta, to my mind one of his chief objects in trying to capture it would be to hamper the British in countering any German offensive through Turkey into the Middle East for oil and foodstuffs in the spring.

MALTA'S POSITION SHOWN

MALTA—EVER A THREAT TO ITALY AND AXIS

Rome Stresses Need Of Smashing Malta

ROME, Jan. 14 (Andi Agency to AP)—The importance of "neutralizing" Britain's air and naval base at Malta by continued Axis bombing attacks was emphasized again today by Italian officials and newspapers as an essential part of the Mediterranean battle.

Il Messaggero of Rome maintained that Malta is the key to victory in the Mediterranean.

Singapore, Malta Chief Danger Spots

Exclusive

By JAMES R. YOUNG

Author, Lecturer and Far East Expert
(Written Exclusively for the International News Service)

Singapore and Malta are the danger signals flashed today on the Allied war board. British forces, in their withdrawal, are far from a healthy position, feat.

Malta is steeled against recurring reports of a planned Axis assault evidently aimed at re-opening convoy channels to the last Nazi stand in Libya.

Military observers are awaiting the effect of an expected Allied aerial reinforcement in the Malaya peninsula, certainly due by tomorrow. The British imperial forces, having withdrawn so close to Singapore, are not now favored with natural jungle barriers.

From Indo China, Thailand (Siam) and Formosa the Japs are operating their best bombers, in the hands of experienced pilots. Their plan, now that they are within 150 miles of the great British naval base, is to cross-cross Singapore by going into northeast Borneo which the Dutch admit the Nipponese have occupied, refuel and come back over the seaport.

Fall of Dutch Tarakan is the first blow inflicted on the Dutch who up to now have been ahead of the Allies in victories, especially at sea. The Japs had already taken British North Borneo and Sarawak.

Holland's Free Dutch forces, however, but consolation—they were aided by Australian aviators in scoring three direct hits on Jap ships.

Armenia's Gibraltar of the South Pacific, Ceylon, remains a dilemma for the Japs who appear to have shifted their air attacks to the British and the Dutch. The Japs have found that the superior quality of American artillery fire is shattering the invader with severe losses.

Japanese ship bases are out of proportion to their anticipation. Casualties in men may run as high as 80 to 75 per cent in order to occupy a given area.

Manpower Japan can throw against the Americans, British and Dutch, but repeated losses of artillery or tanks in war vessels cannot be replaced except from reserve vessels now afloat in those waters.

RKO Boston Features Stage Revue

'Paris Calling' Screen Fare

Charmers representing the world's 26 friendly nations make up the cast of the RKO Boston's new star-spangled revue, 'Folle Internationale,' which comes to that stage on Friday. The accompanying screen fare will be "Paris Calling," with handsome Randolph Scott seen opposite Elizabeth Bergner in her American film debut.

The stage extravaganza, boasting bevy of beautiful show girls, will be presented in a series of 12 lavish production numbers. They are the Cocktail of Fashions, the Midnight Rendezvous, Birds of Paradise, Fascination of the Waltz and South Americans.

A precision-trained chorus line also appears, together with an array of singers, dancers and comedians in a variety of novel and original acts.

London's favorite comedy team, the Huberts, and Lambertie, the cosmopolitan comedian who combines mastery of the xylophone with his funny antics, are featured artists. Others are Franklin D'Amour, Shyrettos, Novello Brothers, Karin Zovka, Helen Mae, the Six Diplomats, Charles and Celeste, Judith and Jacques, the Chadwicks and the 16 Debutantes of the Ballet Internationale.

The picture, "Paris Calling," is the story of an American aviator in the RAF left behind after the evacuation and befriended by a

Boston Debut For Paxinou

Boston, which since 1904 has entertained some of the world's most notable actresses in the title role of Henrik Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," will add a new name to the famous roster when Luther Greene raises the curtain on his production of the famous play at the Colonial Theater on Monday evening. The actress would be Katina Paxinou, famous Greek stage star, who is making her American debut in English as Hedda Gabler.

This Ibsen drama, the last play penned by the brilliant Norwegian, was first seen in Boston in 1904 with Nance O'Neill as Hedda, only, as a matter of record, a year behind New York which acclaimed Mrs. Fiske in the same role in 1903, the first time it was seen anywhere in the United States. Mrs. Fiske subsequently was seen here in the play for only one performance in 1906. Mrs. Patrick Campbell did it here several years later and was followed by Naimova in 1908. Blanche Yurka played Hedda in 1932 and Naimova in 1936.

The appearance of Paxinou at this time, therefore, is of added significance, since she is not only an actress of international stature, but also one who is steeped in the Ibsen tradition.

Famous Heddas in America in past generations, in addition to those already mentioned, have been Eleanor Duse, who played the role here just before her death, Mary Shaw, Madame Borgoy Hammer, Clare Eames, Emily Stevens and Eva Le Gallienne.

Pat O'Brien Satisfied Life Work in Movies Best Career

If Pat O'Brien had it to do over again, he'd take a crack at the movies. So says the likeable screen star, who will open a week's engagement on the stage of the Metropolitan Theater on Thursday, Jan. 22. He will be featured on the same program with Harry James and his orchestra.

"There's nothing else like it in the world," he stated, "and there's nothing I'd rather be doing. Sure there are many times when you want to chuck it all, but the end justifies the means and I'm looking at the end."

There you have the opinion of the man who has played practically every type role that moviedom affords. In his newest picture, Columbia's "Trinidad," he's a doughboy, co-starring with Brian Donlevy, and making love to the new screen lovely, Janet Blair. O'Brien occupies a unique place in the cinema sun, being classified as an actor so adept at a particular job that some characterizations are listed as "O'Brien parts."

Pat claims that his biggest thrill in years of movie-making came when he took his wife to see "The Fighting 69th."

"She wouldn't believe that I could portray Father Duffy on the screen," O'Brien says. "I didn't think so much of the chore myself, but I did try to make that beloved person come to life for people who saw the film. She believes I did. I'm personally afraid I fell down on the job."

O'Brien thinks that today's young actors are too squeamish about the roles they are asked to play.

"The principal trouble with movie youngsters," he said, "is that they want to be gentlemen on, as well as off, the screen. Some day they'll learn that villainy, too, pays dividends."

It is O'Brien's secret ambition again to play the fast-talking reporter which first brought him to movie prominence in "The Front Page." In fact, he achieves something of this in his characterization of a hard-boiled soldier in "Trinidad."

"For a long time," he admitted,

"That 'Front Page' thing kept me eating and kept me working." He has only one real regret.

"People keep getting me mixed up with the roles I play," he explained. "They expect me to be as good a longshoreman as the boys who load timber on the ships at San Pedro. At the same time I'm supposed to be an authority on football."

Naughty 'Art of Love' Film Run At Fine Arts Again Extended¹¹

Again the Fine Arts Theater extends the run of "The Art of Love," one of those naughty pre-war French film soufflés starring that irresistible vixen of the boudoir, Danielle Darrieux.

'White Cargo' Tickets On Sale Thursday

Tickets for the Ann Corio-starring "White Cargo," Leon Gordon's torrid play due Monday at the Plymouth for one week only, go on sale tomorrow at the theater's box office.

Marking the burlesque beauty's local legitimate debut as Tondeleyo, this modernized version of the well-known melodrama will be presented by Addiss and Rorke.

Today this picture, which is teamed with "Bedroom Diplomat," starting the stage's and screen's inimitable Reginald Gardner, enters upon its sixth week at the Fine Arts.

"The Art of Love" is a romantic comedy stemming from a charming card-sharp's boasts that he can pitch woo with any girl pointed out to him.

The card-sharp's partner, to whom he makes the boast, chooses Gaby, innocent, young Parisian salesgirl, who would be no one but dainty Danielle Darrieux.

'Solitaire' Boston Opening Cancelled

Dwight Deere Wiman's production, "Solitaire," pencilled in at the Shubert for an eight-day engagement beginning Jan. 23, will now open cold on Broadway as originally planned.

The availability of the Plymouth Theater there and its stage facilities for accommodating Jo Mielziner's mammoth sets for the production, is responsible for the sudden shift in arrangements.

12 DEMAND HOLDS 'BALL OF FIRE' FOR THIRD WEEK AT KEITH MEMORIAL THEATER

Gay Comedy Charms Fans

What's buzzin'? Samuel Goldwyn's honey of a picture, the Gary Cooper-Barbara Stanwyck co-starrer, "Ball of Fire," is proving to be the boytoy to far as Keith Memorial fans are concerned.

They are flocking to it in such enthusiastic droves that the management is holding it over a third but final week.

Besides being the gayest blend of comedy and romance and suspense, "Ball of Fire" will catch you up with your slang in case it's on the moldy side.

Do you know what "a sucker for succotash" means? Well, neither did Charles Brackett or Billy Wilder who scripted the story for Goldwyn until they were forced to discover it was that the picture revolves around the experiences of a professor, played by Cooper, who is writing a chapter on modern slang for an encyclopedia and whose authority for jiggering and gangster slang is Miss Stanwyck, cast as a night club entertainer.

The awing joints, pool rooms and baseball games all contributed their share, until two tired but slang-happy writers were ready to begin work on "Ball of Fire."

Among the interesting contributions to the American language they discovered, were that "do you dig me?" means "understand?" and "loose tooth" is a farmer, and "yum-yum type" is someone very kissable.

The lads and lassies of today call a girl anything but a girl. They say "dish," "mouse" or "salad." "Give him the Fuller" means "give him the brush" which means to get rid of someone. "A slight case of Andy Hardy" means to get sentimental. "Old beavers" are men with beards, and "menkenkes" means fooling around.

"Chop-chop" means "good-by," when you "hit the fiddle" you go out dancing. You get wise when you're "cooking with gas." A dollar is a "smackeroo" or a "banger," but money is "moolah."

"Boytoytoy" is "having a good time. If you fall on your "tin"—that's a bad fall; if you're "chicken" you're afraid, and if you're "from hanger" you're very low in the social or professional scale.

"Boston After Dark," by George Holland, appears every day in the Boston American.

'Porgy and Bess' Nears End of Boston Run

George Gershwin's great American folk opera, "Porgy and Bess," with Todd Duncan and Anne Brown in the roles they created in the original production six years ago, is running into its final six performances at the Shubert Theater.

A matinee today and Saturday and four evening performances remain in which to see this rarely fine revival production which is destined to make history on Broadway. Choice seats are still available at the box office.

'The Old Homestead' Next Tributary Play

At the Peabody Playhouse on Jan. 22 Boston's highly successful Tributary Theater will present Desmond Thompson's American classic, "The Old Homestead," with Robert Milam in the famous "Uncle Josh Whitcomb" role.

The play deals with the folksy doings of a rural New England family in the late nineteenth century. Others in the cast are Helen Stone, Emilie Bosell, Leverett Tuckerman, Al Edwards, and George Kyron. There will be three performances ending Saturday night.

NAZI 'BIG SHOT' BLABS OF WAR ON MOSCOW

By PIERRE J. HUSS
Copyright, 1943

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—In Berlin's Bellevue Strasse, where until some years ago the American Consulate had its headquarters, is an unimpressive edifice with a simple iron gate through which a car can drive under the portal into the inner courtyard.

A plain black and white board sign hangs over the entrance: "THE PEOPLE'S COURT."

Dreaded just as much all over the Reich as the Gestapo, the People's Court is a sort of specially combined civilian and military court martial, whose five judges are appointed by Hitler personally and responsible only to the Fuehrer. He alone has the power to suspend or alter their verdicts.

Eighty per cent of the cases end up in a death sentence or long prison sentences at hard labor.

Cases coming before this deadly court are primarily based on charges of treason, espionage, subversive activity or plotting against the welfare and safety of the state or its representatives.

MOST TRIALS BRIEF

The trial may last a few hours; it may occupy the court in exceptional cases from morning to night of one day, but seldom longer. The prepared evidence in the case and the circumstances usually have been clarified by the Gestapo and the military intelligence to such an extent that the procedure in the courtroom itself more often than not is a matter of formality.

But on the night of Oct. 17, 1941, the case in hand a dangerous secret known to and talked about in all the Wilhelmstrasse and the diplomatic whispering galleries of Berlin, did not reach a verdict until Saturday evening of the next day.

Then it rang down the curtain not simply on the meteoric career of Nazi "big-shot" Number Four but reverberated like an earthquake, and sounded finis, among other things, to what up to now could have been described as a sort of Nazi tolerance and attitude of restraint toward America; tempered also by the tenacious hope in the breast of the "big-shot" on trial that somehow or other Germany and the United States could be kept from open war.

FRIENDLY TO AMERICA

The man of the thinning blond hair in the prisoner's box was the hitherto gay and audacious Ministerial Director Professor Doctor Karl Boemer, friend of all things American and with a particularly warm spot for American correspondents in Berlin.

His imposing title gave him the rank equal to that of a German ambassador abroad. That, at 42 years of age and considering the fact that he joined the Nazi Party only in 1932, was something to write home about.

It was common knowledge that "Zel Ami" as he was popularly known from his easy success with the fair sex, would inevitably advance within the next year or so to the coveted title of Staatssekretair, one step away from the rank of minister. He was Big-Shot Number Four in Nazi land.

Karl Boemer had flashed his way to the peaks of Nazi government by sheer brilliance mixed with a cocky dare-devilery that gave him the reputation in the Wilhelmstrasse of being about the only man who'd tell Goebbels to his face, for example, that he was all wrong.

OUTDID HOUDINI

His intimate knowledge of America and Americans enabled him to talk and to act with authority in that respect, and it is generally recognized by friend and foe in Berlin that Karl Boemer, as chief of the foreign department in the propaganda ministry did his job most efficiently.

He was the only man in the Nazi government who outdid Houdini by working smoothly for two rival taskmasters at the same time: Joe Goebbels of the propaganda ministry was his chief on one side of the street, and Hitler's minister of the press, Otto Dietrich, from the Reich chancellery, the other.

This, then, was the man who stood before the People's Court in October fighting for his life. He was branded with having broken nearly six months before a great Hitler secret: in an unguarded moment of overworked nerves and strong drink mixed with the passionate love for a woman, he had blurted out to sharp-eared guests of a foreign legation in Berlin the fact that within a few weeks Hitler was going to attack Soviet Russia and march his armies clear to Moscow and the Volga.

SECRET IS OUT

You can imagine the commotion and the gasps among Germans and foreigners alike in the legation that evening, with telephone calls to foreign capitals throughout the night.

And the busiest of all these international telephone lines that night in May was the one between the Soviet Embassy and the very private office of Joseph Stalin in Moscow.

The secret was out, and so was Charlie Boemer. He had become the victim of clashing political interests, of international intrigue, of rivalries in the Wilhelmstrasse, and finally of the policy of moderation and restraint toward America for which he had tenaciously fought in past years.

As far back as 1936 he had sold Hitler on the policy that America must never again be provoked into war against Germany.

He had convinced Hitler that America is land of fads and phases, easy to flare up and quick to forget and forgive.

In time he swung Hitler and therewith the Nazi policy toward America around to one of swallowing everything and anything buried at them from across the Atlantic, be that slur or insult or a roasting from President Roosevelt.

(Tomorrow: Huss will describe how the trap was laid for Boemer.)

Russian 'Chutists'

Keeping Nazis Worried in Crimea

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS).—The Russians have been "making great use of parachute troops in the Crimea" during the last two days, the British radio said today in a broadcast heard by NBC. "The parachutists are dropped in the vicinity of the German lines, causing considerable trouble to the German forces," the broadcast said.

PAUL J. GOEBBELS

Garment Grab Stirs Nazi Riot

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS).—The British radio in a broadcast picked up by NBC said today that one person was executed and a near riot occurred in a Berlin railroad station as a result of the Nazis' nation-wide collection of warm garments for the Russian front. One person was executed for transgressing a decree by the Reich-Fuehrer that the death penalty should be exacted for anybody who helped himself to any of the collected pieces.

The near-riot, said BBC, occurred in the Anhalter station, as the train, laden with garments, was leaving. The German radio, said BBC, passed this off by announcing that "reaction had occurred, as eager contributors stormed the platform to see the train off."

14 NELSON CALLS ALL U. S. TO BACK BIG WAR DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt pointed the nation's industry today toward the "brilliant . . . pitiless" peaks of World War I efficiency by making Donald M. Nelson the all-powerful production czar of the Herculean arms program.

It will be Nelson's job to duplicate, if not surpass, the tremendous industrial performance which won tribute from Field Marshal von Hindenburg after the last conflict, and the grudging acknowledgment, "They understood war."

The creation of one-man production control—a step long urged on Mr. Roosevelt by his friends and critics alike—momentarily distracted the capital's attention from the Pacific war fronts. It promised initiative in the production field where lies the allied hope for ultimate victory.

Nelson, a tireless, tough-hearted driver, wants the story henceforth to be "too much, too soon" instead of the requiem—"too little, too late."

"Just ahead of us are the hardest years we have been through since Valley Forge," says the man President Roosevelt has chosen to boss the whole production program.

"This defense program isn't any WPA program—a joyride—for industry. We are not playing for marbles. It's a life and death struggle. We are going to need the labor of every available worker and every machine."

SACRIFICES AHEAD

"We are going to have to give up all manner of things which we would like to have and strip down for a struggle which will take everything we can give it. Hitler is going to win this war unless we deny ourselves everything that we can possibly deny ourselves."

"We can overtake Hitler. The man who says we can't is either blindly ignorant or believes that democracy and freedom are played out and helpless."

His associates believe President Roosevelt picked him to head the war production board because he was one of the few men who had his sights set on a program as large as the President envisaged even before the two-year schedule of 120,000 tanks, 185,000 planes and 18 million tons of shipping began to take shape.

In announcing the new war production board, Mr. Roosevelt said it would have the powers now exercised by the supply priorities and allocations board, and that Vice-President Wallace as well as the other present members of SPAE would serve on it. Nelson has been SPAE's executive director.

"Nelson also will be charged with the direction of the production program and have general supervision over all production agencies," the White House said. "His decision as to questions of procurement and production will be final."

Nelson's board appeared roughly comparable to the war industries board which Bernard M. Baruch directed so astutely in World War I, and will exercise powers similar to those wielded by Britain's ministry of supply, headed by Lord Beaverbrook.

WILLKIE SEES F. D.—Leaving the White House after a conference with President Roosevelt, Wendell L. Willkie (center) runs into a flock of question-hurling reporters. Later, Willkie told the United States Conference of Mayors that "our unparalleled productive facilities are but partially used" . . . and that we need "tanks, not talk."

McArthur Again Defeats Japs

ago when they began establishing bases in the lower Philippine Islands.

Meanwhile Washington military experts held the belief that only a lack of American-Filipino reinforcements has saved Japan from a humiliating defeat in its desperate drive to complete conquest of the Philippines.

Observers deplored the fact that Gen. MacArthur had so few men that he was unable to follow up offensively on one of the most staggering blows yet administered to the invaders.

They pointed out that, as a result, the Japs now can launch the next attack at their own discretion.

Chinese Count 23,000 Jap Dead at Changsha

CHUNGKING, China, Jan. 14 (AP)—Twenty-three thousand Japanese corpses have been counted on the battlefields of North Hunan province since the abortive campaign against Changsha began, a Chinese high command communiqué said today. A Chinese spokesman estimated the total Japanese casualties in the Changsha campaign at 45,000 to 50,000.

Today's communiqué added that 3000 Japanese troops were attacking Chinese positions west of Canton, in Kwangtung province. No details were given on the progress of the fighting.

Axis Shipping Losses Near 5 Million Tons

LONDON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The Axis has lost nearly 5,000,000 tons of shipping through British sea and air attacks since the war began, an informed source said on the basis of admiralty and RAF communiqués.

Since the end of October, when Axis losses were put at more than 4,500,000 tons, the British navy, fleet arm, and the RAF have sunk or damaged more than 100 Axis ships averaging 4000 tons each.

Dutch Smash Back at Japs

ippines from which the Japanese were springing their invasion forces.

The communiqué said a direct hit was scored on one ship at Tarakan. The attack, on the southern Philippines, the war report said, was carried out by a flying boat of the U. S. Navy which returned safely after dropping bombs on a barracks and runway of a Japanese-used airfield.

On land, the fighting was along the Sarawak-Dutch Borneo jungle frontier and in the Minahasa region of the northeastern arm of Celebes.

The communiqué said no details about the fight for Minahasa were available immediately.

The border apparently is the slowly developing battlefield between defense forces of Dutch Borneo and the Japanese who have overrun the land of the white rajah, Sir Charles Vyner Brooke.

WARSHIP ATTACKED

"One of our warships was attacked by Japanese bombers which, however, did not manage to get over their targets," the communiqué said. "All bombs fell far from the warship."

Commenting on the loss of Tarakan, the newspaper Batavia Nieuwsblad said:

"We must face the fall of Tarakan and not allow ourselves to be discouraged. Japan attacked at the right moment, as the unified command had not yet made itself effective, and even if our allies did what they could, large-scale reinforcements have not yet arrived."

The Dutch claimed destruction of their extensive oil properties, naval air base and harbor facilities before the Tarakan garrison surrendered the island.

OIL FIELDS WRECKED

"After Tarakan," a spokesman told Aneta, "the Japanese know exactly what they are to expect when they move further on Netherlands Indies territory. Already one of the oil sources which Japan needs so badly is lost for them, and lost for a long time, and the same holds for the other oil fields if they cannot be held against the enemy."

"Since Japan could not get the Netherlands Indies oil by long negotiations she decided that she would take it by force. Now Japan knows that this method is also failing and that the Netherlands Indies keeps its word."

ARGENTINA FIRM AGAINST WAR ON AXIS

tion of the Central American and Caribbean nations to force the conference to act on a proposal calling for all American nations to join in the war against the Axis.

The Argentine attitude was the subject of numerous conferences revolving around Sumner Welles, U. S. Undersecretary of State and head of the Washington delegation.

It was learned that Panama planned a proposal to make effective Article 15 of the Havana Conference, embracing a program for mutual assistance against aggression. The extent of the proposal was not disclosed.

Mexico's foreign minister, Ezequiel Padilla, disclosed that his nation, Colombia and Venezuela had formed a bloc seeking united Pan-American severance of relations with "nations at war with the United States."

U. S. Aide at Vichy Takes French Bride

VICHY, Jan. 14 (AP)—Lieut.-Col. Robert Raynsford, assistant military attaché at the United States Embassy, was married today to Marie Anne Tome, daughter of a prominent French family. The bridal pair were entertained at luncheon by the embassy staff.

Raynsford's wedding had approval of the War Department.

GOWNS of Valentine pink, with lace bodices and full tulle skirts applied with pink roses, fashion the costumes of the attractive bevy of bridesmaids at the marriage of Helen Appleton Knowles to Richard Cary Williams at Emmanuel Church this afternoon . . .

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Winthrop Knowles of Marlborough st., and the late Mr. Knowles, a great-granddaughter of the poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, and a popular debutante of last winter . . . Mr. Williams is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cary Williams of Boston . . . Owing to the imminence of his being called to the colors the bridegroom has just completed the first semester of his senior year at Harvard, and he and his bride have no immediate plans for their future home . . .

The altar at Emmanuel is decorated with white flowering dogwood for the 4 o'clock ceremony, which is being performed by Rev. Bradford Burnham of St. John's Church, Beverly Farms, where Mrs. Knowles and her family worship in the summer time . . . He is assisted by Rev. Phillips Endicott Osgood of Emmanuel . . .

Traditional white satin trimmed with family heirloom lace fashions the bride's gown, which she is wearing her mother's wedding veil of delicate old lace . . . She is being given in marriage by her brother, Robert Winthrop Knowles, who is in the service at Camp Edwards . . .

Anne Longfellow Knowles, her sister, is maid of honor . . . Her gown of white lace and tulle has pink roses on the skirt and is enhanced by a pink ribbon hat, pink gloves and an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses . . . The bridesmaids are wearing pink hats and white gloves with their picturesque gowns and carrying white flowers . . . They are the Misses Barbara Higginson and Francis Blumer of Boston, Mary H. Smith of Cambridge, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Fellowes Davis of New York, the former Alice Plummer of Boston . . .

Edward Cary Williams of Milton is best man for his brother, and the ushers are Gilbert T. Knowles, brother of the bride, Allan Forbes, Jr., of Boston, Carlyle V. D. Cochran and Orme Wilson, Jr., of Washington, Fellowes Davis, Lewis H. Spence and Michael Zara of New York . . .

Mrs. Knowles is receiving in a gown of beige crepe, with dark brown hat and accessories . . . For her "going away" costume the bride has chosen a blue-green wool suit, with hat of matching fabric . . .

BECAUSE OF THE TIES that bind in movie contracts, Katie Hepburn will probably be deprived of attending the wedding of her brother, which is scheduled to take place in Boston this coming Saturday . . . Katie is in Hollywood making a movie in which she is starring with Spencer Tracy and, as far as her family knows at present, will not be able to fly to Beantown for the ceremony . . .

The wedding at which Susanna Flayd will become the bride of Dr. Robert H. Hepburn, Katie's younger brother, will be a small family affair at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Cleveland Floyd at Marlborough st.

Owing to the possibility of Hepburn's being called for immediate military service, the date of the nuptials has been advanced . . .

Susanna has been attending Wellesley and her bridegroom-to-be, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hepburn of Hartford, is a Harvard '35 alumnus and graduate of Harvard Medical School . . . Rev. Vivian Pomeroy of Milton will perform the ceremony at which the bride will be attended by her sisters, Mrs. Donald I. Stowe of Milton and Mrs. Howard A. Bridgman

SURROUNDED by fragrant gardenias, debutantes Betty Stearns and Jean Hendrie of Cohasset present a preview of the Gardenia Ball which will enliven the mid-winter season for members and friends of the Charlotte Cushman Club. The ball will be held Jan. 20 at the Copley-Plaza. Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stearns, and Jean's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Percy M. Hendrie.

MR. AND MRS. William H. McLeod of Newtonville, accompanied by their daughter, Nancy, and Mrs. Robert B. Rogg, are sojourning at the Waldorf Astoria while in New York for a round of theaters and visiting.

SPORTS MINDED deb will have an opportunity to try their skill at fly casting under the skilled direction of guides from the Maine woods, at the forthcoming New England Sportsman's and Boat Show to be held at Mechanics Building Feb. 7-14th.

Listen, World!

"I AM NOT SORRY"

By Elsie Robinson

"AREN'T you ashamed of yourself?" my outraged elders thundered. A great, big girl like you doing a thing like that!"

Shaken, sobbing, I tried to nod my young head in dutiful agreement. But there was no conviction in that nod. Enormous as my crime might be—and I felt, with not too secret pride, that it was Pretty Hot Stuff—and heavy as my punishment, the frightful fact remained that I WASN'T ASHAMED OF MYSELF!

I was, with those certain reservations, ashamed of the thing I had done. I was, without any reservations whatsoever, ashamed of the hurt I had given others. And irritated beyond words at the needless mess I had made of my own private program. But I wasn't ashamed of myself. AND I NEVER YET HAVE BEEN.

That's a large statement to make after my years of mighty lively living. Many—perhaps most—will consider it a brazen statement. For sackcloth and ashes are still regarded as de rigueur for delinquents, as they were in the days of Job. But personally, I've yet to scatter my first cinder on this sinful head or scratch my first hair shirt.

In the face of all my crimes of commission and omission, I still firmly refuse to be ashamed of Elsie.

To the contrary, since I first realized that I had a Self, unique, distinct and apart from the rest of the human race, I have been gratified and grateful for the fact and proud as blazes of it.

I CAN IMAGINE no more glorious destiny that to be a human being, with the ability to judge at least vaguely, between right and wrong, and the right to make my own decisions.

There are many shining miracles in this miraculous world—sunsets and silver dawns, black winds, long, swinging tides—but of them all there is to me no wonder more heartening than the existence of one's Self.

That constant, sense of inner personality—that yearning, dreaming, rebelling, experimenting life which one never sees, yet which one feels moving constantly within the body's shell—that nudged yet so familiar stranger who is always so much finer, wiser, gentler and stronger than one's surface acts there, to me, is the loveliest miracle on earth.

Ashamed of that Presence—that Other Self? NEVER!

Glad of it! Grateful for it! Proud of it! Passionately sure that some day it will triumph over the sluggishness of the body, the stupidity of the mind!

Never have I been ashamed of myself. Often I have betrayed that self—and been bitterly ashamed that I couldn't express its finer impulses. But never have I been ashamed of the Essential Me. And never have I really been ashamed of the stronger hungers, virile rages and vital curiosities which made me do the foolish things I have done.

I WISH of course, that they hadn't been foolish. But how did I know they were going to be foolish when they started out?

Originally they seemed to me as divinely inspired as that glorious inspiration which drove Columbus across the unknown sea—that sacred inquisitiveness which made Edison and Pasteur immortal.

How did I know that my adventure was to end in a mud puddle where Columbus' ended in a new continent. I didn't. But I took a chance. And got laughed at, of course. And cussed out. But at least I took a chance.

And I'm proud I took a chance!

OUR DAILY CITATION: To the scientists and Industrialists who are pooling their brain power and financial resources to produce synthetic rubber in sufficient quantities to make the United States independent of the Far East for all military and most civilian needs. The ingenuity that created the automobile can and will keep it running.

OUR lovely ladies are fighting a war of their own making. Some want to wear uniforms. Others oppose them. So the air is filled with verbal shrapnel.

Prominent in the "no uniforms" group is Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President. Her contention is that uniforms impose a needless financial burden on the civilian defense worker. Besides, they require large quantities of woolen cloth which should be reserved for men in the armed forces.

THIS GIRL COMBINES CHARM AND PATRIOTISM
Wears Pretty Dresses as She Aids National Defense

Supporting Mrs. Roosevelt are many distinguished fashion authorities who share the opinion of Designer Louis Barnes Gallagher that:—

"Uniforms aren't feminine, which is the worst that can be said about them. They are extravagant and silly. Why should a woman buy a uniform when she has plenty of good clothes to wear, particularly now when materials are scarce?"

"Nurses, women truck drivers, factory workers and a few others need uniforms, of course. But no woman needs a uniform to take down notes in a first aid class."

We are not going to get into the controversy. It is a purely feminine affair, and the ladies may settle it any way they please. Our policy is strictly hands off.

Just the same, we strongly suspect that the give-us-uniforms campaigners will lose out in the long run.

Soldiers, sailors, marines and aviators are so accustomed to similarity of dress that they are apt to ignore the drably clad woman and center their attentions on the glamorous, appealingly feminine girl who wears eye-compelling colors, form-fitting gowns, modish coiffures, smart cosmetics and sparkling gems.

Rare indeed is the woman who will wear a uniform if she thinks it encourages men to look the other way.

THE COAST GUARD wants New England men who are between the ages of eighteen and thirty-one.

The Guard is recruiting to more than double its regular strength and consequently offers many opportunities to those that desire activity, adventure and thrilling experiences.

Young men who enlist can be proud of the fact that they are members of the nation's oldest military marine force, an organization with a brilliant record that goes back more than one hundred and fifty years.

The Coast Guard has fought pirate, smuggler and invader.

It has protected fisheries, fur seal, game reservations and forest preserves.

It has hunted criminals at sea, and, on more than one occasion, has put down mutiny.

It has enforced harbor rules and supervised the movements of vessels—a duty particularly important in wartime.

It has saved life and property and cared for thousands of shipwrecked and destitute persons.

Truly the achievements of the Coast Guard since the time of its inception upon the recommendation of Alexander Hamilton, first Secretary of the Treasury, have been sufficient to fill a book as voluminous as an unabridged dictionary.

We urge all young men who are anxious to see action to go to the Coast Guard recruiting office at 7 Water street, Boston, today.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS.

Q—Do you take cream in your coffee? A—Yes, sir; and in my tea, too. Ever try cream in ginger ale? It's good. Q—What is the origin of the film title "Arise My Love"? A—It is from the Song of Songs of Solomon: "Rise up, my love, my fair one and come away." The title of Lillian Hellman's play, "The Little Foxes," is also from the Song of Songs: "Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vine."

ADDED DETAILS: Several years ago John Dunninger, an illusionist, stated he had a scheme to make battleships invisible at a distance of more than 200 yards. The Navy considered it. Would come in very handy at this time if it could be done. . . . Nowadays one British bomber carries nearly as many bombs over Germany as a whole flight of bombers did in the early days of the war. One good angle for the United States now is that in a few months the majority of its bombers will be of the very latest design. No other warring nation will be able to say the same.

SIDELIGHTS: If you and I get no tires we are not going to complain. But if when we can get no tires we find that a man who has "influence" is getting some, then, gentlemen, we are going to do a burn-up and cut loose with a terrific squawk. . . . We hear much of the night spots of New York's Harlem and little of such places as the section's Abyssinian Baptist Church, which has a congregation of 14,000, the largest of any Protestant church in the world. . . . Let us pause again to consider what Thomas Paine said: "Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. We fight not to enslave, but to set a country free and make room upon the earth for honest men to live in."

BRIEF TRUTHS: "After the event even a fool is wise," said Horace. This seems to indicate they had arm chair generals and fireside admirals in his day, too. The same "experts" who a few months ago were dismissing Japan lightly are now dwelling at length on its strength and criticizing the Allied governments for not having made better preparations. . . . A Portland newspaperman claims to have originated the slogan "Remember Pearl Harbor." Perhaps. But he owes something to the "Remember the Maine" slogan. As to the origin of this latter, historians say that an unknown patron of a Broadway bar in 1898 raised his glass and said: "Gentlemen, remember the Maine." And the slogan was immediately taken up by the populace.

The MARCH of EVENTS

By Benjamin DeCaeseres

I HEARD A RADIO talker the other evening say: "We want a better America than we have ever had."

What did he mean by "better"? He didn't make that clear. The "New Orderists" use ambiguous phrases. They are nearly all of them, of course, tainted with collectivism.

Human nature being what it is, I doubt whether there can ever be any other social or political system better than that known as "the American way."

I think we Americans have reached the topmost rung of political evolution—that is, the highest form of development in the matter of liberty and justice that humanity can attain—human nature, as I said, being what it is. And human nature isn't so nice when it comes to politics, and even other things.

Unless it changes for the better, we Americans had better stick to what we are and were—or recede into the blackness of ancient forms of totalitarianism, which the "New Orderists" believe is "progress."

A "Better America"? Well, so far as I am concerned, the United States that has existed in my lifetime suits me—with all its faults.

THERE'S A LOT of "research" going on as to "why people drink."

At a conference some time ago Dr. Merrill Moore, medical director of the Washington Hospital, Boston, found "alcoholism" based on "boredom, excessive fatigue and a desire to escape."

How vacuous these "researchers" are! People drink for the same reason that they eat pie, make love, play golf, go to a prize fight or a horse race and for the same reason that I walk around the block when I'm tired of sitting—because these things give pleasure. People do things deliberately because they like to do those things and they refrain as much as possible from doing things they don't like.

And that's all there is to the "drink problem" when you take the verbal whiners off the question.

But the last thing the "ethical" busybodies will ever admit is the right to do a thing because you like to do it. It's too simple for their labyrinthine minds.

SLOGANS ARE THE LIFE of advertising, of nations, wars, politics and, in fact, of people in general. They contain the stuffs of life and death.

The first time I heard the word "slogan" was as a schoolboy when I had to recite "The Relief of Lucknow," wherein occurs that famous line, "Dinya hear the slogan!"

According to George Earle Shankle in his excellent book, "American Mottos and Slogans" (the H. W. Wilson Co., New York) the word slogan may be traced back to the Gaelic "slaugh-ghairm," meaning a war cry. Today the slogan has many uses, but most slogans are still essentially bellicose and challenging even when used in business.

Mr. Shankle gives the origins and histories of all our celebrated slogans, and when you have finished his book you've bitten off a large chunk of American history.

GOVERNOR LEHMAN recently said, "we can't suspend the American way while we go out to defend it."

It may be necessary to suspend the American way long enough to get rid of those who are plotting on our soil to get rid of the American way. But if it is ever necessary to suspend the American way let it be done by old-line Americans, not by those who are interested in a permanent suspension.

Being at war, we must, of necessity, expect some of our liberties to be curtailed in the interest of the only thing that now counts—victory over Japan and Germany.

It has been so in all our big wars, and a sensible, realistic view can find no objection to certain restrictions—for the duration.

BLUEJACKETS AIDED BY KAY FRANCIS

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14.—Enthusiasm runs high at Columbia over "The 49th Parallel" starring Leslie Howard, Laurence Olivier, Raymond Massey, Anton Walbrook and Erich Portman. You ask how can Raymond Massey be in this picture when he has been in America all the time? Well, I asked that question myself and learned that some of the picture has been filmed in Canada and that Massey was in those scenes. The story is an exciting one—that of a German submarine that reaches the shores of Canada. Six armed Nazis go into Eskimo country on a search for food and while they are on land their submarine is blown to bits. Laurence Olivier plays a French Canadian trapper and Leslie Howard a Canadian sportsman. When Columbia releases "The 49th Parallel" it will be as "The Invader."

MY MAD ROOSIAN friend, Gregory Ratoff, is back at his old stamping ground—20th Century-Fox—after a year's absence to direct Ty Power in "Down to the sea in Ships." The first thing Greg did was go in a projection room to see the terrific whaling scenes Jim Havens and his technical crew photographed off the coast of Mexico for this picture. Havens certainly has had more than his share of adventures this year. He headed the camera unit that was in Honolulu making location shots for "To the Shores of Tripoli" when the Japs started bombing Pearl Harbor.

TURK GREENOUGH may be the hero of heroes to his bride, Sally Rand, but the first movie job handed him after their wedding is that of a bad boy in Republic's "Stage Coach Express." Hear tell that Sally's not crazy about the boy friend playing heavies and chasing the snow white heroes like Don Barry plays in this picture. Sally is a smart business woman and knows her box office. But Turk is no henpecked groom and when he read the Republic script he liked it well enough to say "okay" even if he is to play a meanie.

I SPENT an evening at one of the canteens operated by the Bundies For Bluejackets and it was a great privilege to be able to work with Kay Francis, Mrs. Milton Bren and Mrs. John Lorden. This division has done a magnificent job furnishing games and magazines for the Navy and serving them coffee, cocoa and doughnuts.

IF BUDDY ROGERS remains on duty as a coast guardsmen here this coming spring he and Mary Pickford will co-produce for United Artists. Buddy has given up ideas of acting and as soon as he finishes his commitment with RKO he will work with Mary on producing a picture. Mary said they will try and buy the most important vehicle possible.

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random: Jessie Matthews, young English actress who opened in an American revue, is reported dangerously ill in the East; Betty Kean, who waited seven months for her movie debut in "Yokel Boy," had to break her ankle and be replaced by Joan Davis; Lina Basquette and John Clark a dinner twosome at Mike Lyman's cafe; Greer Garson and Benny Thau dining quietly at the Biarritz Saturday night; Bill Conselman, Jr., and his wife, Jacqueline Dalya, have separated again. Bill was carrying a torch a mile high at the Band Box all by his lonesome; Walter Wanger planed back from Washington to be with Joan Bennett on their second wedding anniversary; Lew Ayres and Laraine Day, who became good friends during the time she was in the "Dr. Kildare" series, dining at the Hollywood Derby; Frances Gifford and Bob Cobb at March Field for the Jack Benny show.

Beauty

YOU CAN BE BEAUTIFUL—Arlene Gould says that to an oily complexion . . . it matters not whether you're in the cold north or in balmy swimming country, which Evelyn Keyes and Jinx Falkenberg are enjoying . . . it will SHINE. Unless . . . you know of a special makeup "foundation milk" which she describes today.

NEW 'FOUNDATION MILK' TIGHTENS OILY SKIN

By ARLINE GOULD

LIKE MANY ANOTHER of nature's unexplainable miracles . . . the effect of milk on feminine complexions may be counted as all to the good for two opposite types, the dry and the oily . . . IF it is properly formulated and combined with other ingredients. Certain milk content cosmetics are wonderful for thin, dry skins. We've discovered a marvelous "foundation milk" which is that so-rare find . . . a glamorous make-up base for oily skin!

And, even more wonderful, it's a cleanser, and a corrective, a pore tightener!

It makes no difference to over-active oil glands whether you are in the tropical humidity of the Caribbean . . . or in the near-Arctic temperatures of the far northern ski country . . . they go right on making your face shiny, spoiling the best-looking makeup you can manage.

But there's a potent magic in this scrupulously formulated "foundation milk" with its vegetable extracts and exclusive astringent ingredients added to genuine milk, that gives a lasting mat texture, dull as portrait velvet and just as soft. Inevitably, coarse pores go with this type skin . . . and it demands frequent specialized cleansing . . . hence this fortunate three-way cosmetic.

Undoubtedly "foundation milk" will be brand new to you . . . for its name, though long famous on the continent, is just becoming known here. New too, will be the privilege of buying as fine a cosmetic as this at a special price . . . 60 cents . . . in addition to the average price of $1. You'll undoubtedly prefer buying the larger sizes . . . but for traveling or for that exciting "first time" when you investigate the possibilities of something really unique in the beauty world, it's an appealingly small investment.

The foundation milk is tintless, fragrant and non-greasy . . . and bestows on the skin the tinnest of thin films . . . sheer as chiffon, and just as guiltless of shine!

To learn about this unusual new cosmetic, phone Arlene Gould, L.I.Berry 4600, except the week-end, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

FOOD

By Martha Lee

FEW OF US EAT desserts with health assets in mind. But mothers confronted with the responsibility of keeping their families well during these critical days are much inclined to select them with dietetic values duly weighed and considered.

Prunes are a pet food among those who are nutritionally in the "know." They're an excellent source of vitamin B, and a better than good source of vitamin G. They're rich also in the valuable minerals, and rank high among the fruits for abundance of iron and value in red cell restoration. Good reason, indeed, for considering them seriously in daily meal planning!

Here is a recipe for one of the tastiest, healthiest desserts that could be served to anyone.

PRUNE FLUFF

1½ cups cooked prunes
½ cup liquid from prunes
½ cup granulated sugar
4 tsp. lemon juice
¼ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. salt
1 tbsp. plain gelatin
2 tbsp. cold water
5 egg whites
1 tsp. vanilla extract

Remove pits from prunes and mash prunes to a pulp. Combine prune liquid, sugar, lemon juice, spice and salt in a saucepan and bring to a boil; continue boiling about 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Add gelatin moistened with water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Beat egg whites stiff. Pour hot liquid over egg whites and beat well. Add flavoring and prunes and mix thoroughly but lightly. Chill until firm. Serve in stemmed glasses. Top with whipped cream. Makes 12 servings.

TOWER PRUNE PUDDING—A tasty and healthful dessert.

Another dessert that offers health value as well as eye appeal is the following pudding:

TOWER PRUNE PUDDING

2 cups cooked prunes
1-3 cup granulated sugar
¼ tsp. cinnamon

1-3 cup sliced maraschino cherries
1½ cups hot water
1½ oz. pkg. orange flavored gelatin

Whipped cream or soft custard
Pit prunes and cut into small pieces. Add sugar and spice and beat to melt sugar. Cool. Add cherries and stir to blend. Pour hot water over gelatin and stir to dissolve. Chill until thick but not firm. Beat until light and frothy. Fold in prune mixture. Pour into a wet 2-quart mold. Chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream or soft custard. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

PRUNE SOUFFLE

½ lb. prunes, stewed
½ cup sugar
4 egg whites
¼ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. lemon juice
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
Stone prunes and force pulp through coarse sieve. Add sugar and cook 2 minutes, or until sugar is dissolved. Beat egg whites until foamy, add salt and lemon juice, and beat until stiff; gently fold in prune mixture. Turn into baking dish, set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 to 45 minutes, or until firm. Serve at once, with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

PRUNE MARMALADE WHIP

1½ cups cooked prune pulp
¼ cup orange marmalade
2 tbsp. lemon juice
¼ tsp. salt
2 tbsp. sugar
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
2 tbsp. chopped nuts

Mix together prune pulp, marmalade and lemon juice. Beat salt and sugar into egg whites; fold in prune mixture. Serve in sherbet glasses and garnish with nut meats. If desired, substitute apricot pulp for prune. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

PARSLEY USED FOR TOUCH OF COLOR

Chopped parsley is a gay accessory to the biscuit topping for fish dishes. The added flavor is excellent with seafoods, and the tiny sprigs of green give a pleasing color effect. Add one tablespoon of chopped parsley for each cup of flour in a standard biscuit recipe. Try the latest style in biscuit toppings, and in biscuits served "solo" with spring meals.

The Correct Thing

LOUD COMPLAINT

Don't embarrass your guests and attract undue attention to yourself by constantly reprimanding your waiter about the service, or by making loud complaints, etc. If you are not satisfied, ask for the captain or head waiter and explain the matter to him.

Fashion

THERE'S NOTHING like doing this mother-daughter fashion idea up brown, while you're about it. And you may recall that when these two, Ruth Warrick and Joan Carroll, posed in their holly berry red velvet party frocks the coiffures didn't show up to best advantage. Here's a good shot showing the ultimate touch to the get-up . . . pompadour versions for both, topped with red velvet bows. Ends are lined up in curls on top. Lots of young mothers will wear their back hair down, too!—ANNICE BRINK.

FULL SKIRTS FEATURE NEW SPRING CLOTHES

By BETTINA BEDWELL

SO MANY of the first spring dresses and suits have skirts that flare a bit at the front, it is evident to any observer of the new fashions that this is a major detail of the styles. And, I may as well add that this type of skirt is apt to be becoming to almost all shapes in which women come. It minimizes the too-rundant stomach and keeps the over-ample hipline down, while also being very nice indeed for slim figures.

The dress sketched by Miss Dulin has tailored front fullness very nicely done by three inverted pleats at the front of the skirt below a flat front peplum. Made of navy blue wool, the silhouette of the dress is balanced by inverted pleats at the back of the blouse. The narrow belt is in clycemen suede.

FIG MUFFINS APPETIZING

FIG muffins are a splendid face-lifter for a plain ordinary meal. They lend appetite appeal to breakfast, luncheon or supper. To your usual muffin batter, add figs which have been allowed to stand in boiling water for 10 minutes, and cut into small pieces. Allow one cup of figs for each three cups of flour in the recipe.

Story Gives Wrong Impression

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

WASHINGTON, TUESDAY—It is fortunate that some of us can smilingly take stories in the newspapers which would have no particular point, unless to make trouble between government officials.

It is also amusing to note statements carried with great prominence, which either have no truth at all, or which are misinterpretations; while the corrections are carried as inconspicuously as possible.

Long ago, I made up my mind that, when things were said involving only me, I would pay no attention to them, except when valid criticism was carried by which I could profit. However, when such stories concern someone else, the situation changes.

In a news story, carried in a Washington paper yesterday, it was said that I had "lambasted" a certain official. He happens to know exactly what I said, because I said it to him and said it about a situation which I brought to Mr. Knudsen's and Mr. Hillman's attention, and of which they were already cognizant.

It was one which, in all probability, will be repeated in many parts of the country because, as industries have to change from peace time to war time production, there is bound to be considerable temporary unemployment. This creates hardship and uncertainty and is very bad for civilian morale.

I am concerned with civilian morale, as is every citizen of the United States. I feel that a pattern for meeting this situation must be developed, and that none of us, whether we are government officials or private individuals, can afford to sit back and wait for the development of these problems without feeling the urgency that a group of hungry children in our homes would put upon us.

I said all this to Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Hillman in somewhat forceful terms, but without any criticism of them, only because I felt the situation must be put before them, since they could help to develop the proper solution. I cited this situation to a group of 4-H Club people as an example of the type of thing for which we must watch.

I said that, to some of us, hunger was more academic than real, but that we must try to develop the ability to feel the urgency of such a situation. I said nothing derogatory about anyone, and nothing which I would not apply to myself. I can only surmise that it gives certain people joy to think that they can create ill-feeling between people working for the same ends, even if on different programs.

Sister Role Seldom Leads to Altar

By Beatrice Fairfax

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"HE USED to come to see me at least two evenings a week, and we talked at times of girls in our crowd. I was foolish enough to imagine that he wanted my reactions about them, because I was the one and only girl for him.

"The conversation often turned to a certain girl, very pretty, a little wild and with plenty of boy friends trailing her. I got the impression he didn't care for this girl—that he didn't respect her. I never said anything 'catty' about her, and for this I'm devoutly thankful now, because he has just written me a letter saying they are engaged and that he remembers with pleasure what a good friend I was to his future wife.

"What do you think of this kind of friendship? "JO ANN."

Without the least trace of cynicism, please let me say that the sisterly role seldom lands a girl at the altar, for there is one type of woman that a man loves and marries, and another type to whom he merely confides his perplexities and troubles.

Certain girls seem fated never to win more from men than friendship. Usually, they're fine, companionable, intelligent girls with whom men are comfortably at ease; but men never for a moment lose their heads over these girls.

Such girls as these have to suffer for their very virtues. Undoubtedly, men take advantage of their sweet unselfishness. They are sure to make the best type of wives and mothers later on but I think they need to begin right away to learn how to handle men. I don't mean to advise the sisterly type of girl to try to become a vamp, there are, however, a few things to be considered.

When you meet a new young man, control your desire to do nice, sisterly things for him right away. Instead, let the benevolence be at least on a fifty-fifty basis. Make it possible, even necessary, for him to do things for you.

Don't let him meander along in conversation about different girls. He's probably unconsciously interested in the one he talks so much about. Like my correspondent, I hope you're too wise to be "catty," but it's just as well to have the trick of knowing how to change the conversation.

Invite him to make one of a small, informal group at supper or cards. I think your men friends will learn to appreciate you more quickly if you keep these groups reduced in size. Let him help in passing dishes, and making himself generally useful at a party.

Boston American

Mr. Bill Brandt,
National League,
No. 30 Rockefeller Plaza,
New York.

Dear Bill:

Enclosed please find my ballot with ten selections for Baseball's Hall of Fame.

When the Baseball Writers' Association decided to hold an election to name new members to the Hall of Fame, I called upon the fans of New England to assist me in my task. I felt, Bill, that baseball is the public's game, and that the average fan knows as much about the merits of the various players as do the experts who are in the press box each day.

Thousands of fans sent me their selections, and I then made a consensus of their choices. After I read the selections of the fans, I adopted them as my own and I am sending them along to you so that they can be recorded as my official ballot.

As you will note from my ballot, the choices in the order of votes was as follows:

Hugh Duffy, Rogers Hornsby, Mickey Cochrane, Rabbit Maranville, Pie Traynor, Rube Waddell, Jimmy Collins, Johnny Evers, Frankie Frisch and Bill Terry.

Just so as to complete the record I would like you to know for your personal information that Herb Pennock was eleventh, Ed Delahanty twelfth, Ed Walsh thirteenth and Clark Griffith fourteenth.

Duffy's Great Vote

Hugh Duffy received an overwhelming vote. His name was on almost every list submitted. He is, indeed, the grand old man of baseball. With a batting mark of .438 when with the Boston Nationals, Duffy set a mark that even his pupil, Ted Williams, is unlikely to surpass.

I think the fans of the country feel the same towards Duffy as do the fans of New England. In my book, Hugh will always be my No. 1 baseball hero.

I was surprised by the big vote Rogers Hornsby received. He ran a good second.

Mickey Cochrane, who finished third, had a slight lead on Rabbit Maranville. Pie Traynor had plenty of local support while Rube Waddell, Jimmy Collins, Johnny Evers, Frankie Frisch and Bill Terry had numerous backers.

The poll showed that the public knows its ball players and that it is anxious that the heroes of former baseball campaigns get due recognition.

I am happy that the decision of the Baseball Writers' Ass'n to have a Hall of Fame election gave me an opportunity to get the advice of the fans. I could not improve upon the choices of the fans, and so accepted them as submitted.

Yours for Victory,
Jack Conway

BIVINS UPSETS SOOSE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14 (AP)—Jimmy Bivins, 178, scored an upset victory over Billy Soose, 172, the Farrell, Pa., battler who only two weeks ago was named the National Boxing Ass'n's No. 1 challenger for the light heavyweight title held by Gus Lesnevich.

LITTLE TOMMY HOGAN, star protege of Tom Jones, Catholic Youth Organization coach, who has four crack teams of youngsters of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Jamaica Plain, ready for the Hearst Marksmanship Tournament.

CYO RIFLEMEN IN SHOOT

The Catholic Youth Organization has made tremendous strides in the advancement of sports for boys and young men during these past few years.

No sport has been overlooked—even ranges have been found to teach the boys the proper use of firearms. So popular has this become that Coach Tom Jones now has a huge class of boys from Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Jamaica Plain who practice regularly.

FOUR TEAMS IN SHOOT

Many of them have become so proficient that four teams are entering the William Randolph Hearst Citizen Marksmanship competition. They will have their own league and the winning team will be in the finals.

Coach Jones said this morning that the boys have made remarkable progress in the last three years. Bill Desmond of the Boston Police Dept. got the boys started and he has carried on since.

"Rifle shooting is a great sport and one that should be encouraged at all times," said the C. Y. O. coach.

LANDS HEARST SHOOT

"Naturally there is a great deal of attention being paid to rifle shooting now due to our national crisis but we have felt that the sport was a fine thing for youngsters long before the outbreak of the war.

"The Hearst shoot is a great competition to key up interest and win, lose or draw, our boys will have lots of fun taking part in this outstanding event."
(Hearst Shoot entry blank on Page 30.)

Eastern Y. C. To Carry On This Summer

As far as possible—the Eastern Yacht Club, premiere yachting organization of the New England coast, today planned to carry on a yachting and racing program next summer.

At a meeting at the Harvard Club, Commodore B. Devereaux Barker, who was re-elected, told members that unless there are unforeseen developments the club plans to open its Samoset annex, Fairlie's Day, April 19, and the main clubhouse, May 30, and offer racing to all craft that may be in commission.

Lieut.-Comdr. Alexander W. Moffat, U. S. N. R., told club members that at present the Navy Department plans to permit yachting and yacht racing during the 1942 season. He pointed out, however, that there would be some restricted areas and that all yachts must carry identifications of some sort to be announced later.

Commodore Baker advised owners of yachts they must have Coast Guard identification cards and must be responsible for the proper identification of their crews.

Hollett Wins Over Wings In Rough Tilt

By BILL GRIMES

Bill "Flash" Hollett, one of most underrated players in the N. H. L., increased his popularity with the local hockey fans by scoring both goals in the Bruins' 2 to 1 victory over the Detroit Red Wings last night at Boston Garden.

Although they hadn't been in action for a week, the Bruins had a tough time beating the Wings, who were playing their eighth game in 13 nights. In fact, the Rossmen were obliged to hand out some stiff body checking to get their opponents to submit to defeat.

MOWERS STARS IN NETS

Although the game was fast and bitterly contested, it would have been far more interesting but for the fact that the three officials spent the evening trying to out-whistle one another. There were far too much useless whistles to suit the fans who protested the stopping of the play so many times that it required more than two hours to complete the game.

Johnny Mowers, Detroit goalie, turned in one of his best games. The Rossmen got off enough well directed shot to score a dozen goals, but "Flash" Hollett was the only Bruins able to beat Mowers, who was credited with 31 saves against 22 for Frankie Brimsek.

After a no scoring first period, Carl Lacombe put Wings out in front at 7:33 in the second chapter. Lacombe intercepted a pass out made by Bill Cowley and lifted a backhand shot into the cage.

DEAD PIGEON

Three minutes after Lacombe had scored, there was a face off to the left of the Detroit cage. At the drop, Milt Schmidt batted the puck and it landed on Hollett's stick. That was all the "Flash" needed, for he slipped it into the net and the score was tie.

Just about the time that the fans were beginning to figure the game would go into overtime Hollett broke out of his own zone and headed for the Detroit cage. At the visitors' blue line he gave the puck to Roy Conacher, and the lanky left winger returned the pass when he saw Wings' defensemen coming over to check him.

Hollett had Mowers at his mercy just as soon as he had control of the puck and banged it home for what proved to be the deciding goal.

HANDLEY SIGNS CONTRACT

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14 (INS)—Lee Handley, Pirates third baseman, has signed for the 1942 season, officials of the Pittsburgh club announced today.

SILVER SKATES QUEEN—Lovely Ariane, 18-year-old Swiss figure skating champion, relaxes in her Boston hotel suite before heading for practice ice session. She's a very special feature attraction at the great Silver Skates Derby in the Garden Sunday afternoon. Ariane is making her first Boston appearance in the Boston American-Record ice annual classic.

DEMPSEY GETS NAVY BID

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 14 (AP)—Jack Dempsey may be too old for the Army, but he's got an invitation to join the Navy.

Recruiting Officer A. T. Husted wired the former heavyweight champion:

"Recent news reports say Army rejected your attempt to enlist. Navy welcomes fighting men from 17 to 50 years and this office invites you to join the Navy and free the world."

REAL SAILOR SOON—Ernest Clark of Belmont, Pennsylvania crew stroke, salutes Coach Rusty Callow before workout on rowing machine. Clark expects to be in the U. S. Navy soon. He has applied for reserve commission.

Swiss Beauty, Ariane, Here for Skates Derby

Lovely Ariane, "Continental Sweetheart of the Ice," has arrived in town for her official American debut at the famed seventh annual Silver Skates Derby at Boston Garden Sunday afternoon.

Only 18, this Swiss miss has had a colorful skating career which dates back to the time that she was five years old.

In fact, when she was 13, she was awarded the Swiss Medal for skating proficiency and beauty—the youngest girl to ever win so great an honor.

ENGLISH DEBUT SPOILED

Three years later, at the age of 16, she amazed the great critics of the ice world by winning the international skating championship at St. Moritz against 24 of the world's finest figure skaters.

And then—but let Ariane do her own talking from this point:

"My mother felt that I ought to go to London to perfect my skating under Gerschewiler and Miekeler, the finest teachers in Europe. I studied under them and made several charity appearances before royalty.

"Then my instructors made an arrangement for me to appear before a committee to win the English Gold Medal at the Richmond Sports Drome in London—the night before I was to appear, the palace was bombed—there hasn't been a gold medal awarded in London since.

GETTING AN EARLY VIEW

"My mother and I then decided to come to the United States. We have been here for over a month and it's the most thrilling experience I have ever had. It really is grand to see cities all aglow with lights every night after more than two years of London blackouts.

"You people here do marvels for figure skaters with lavish backgrounds and great performances which we do not see abroad. And I am so anxious to make Boston like me that I have come on early to become fully acquainted with the Boston ice and to be ready for the Derby."

And Ariane will be.

'Pics Renew Feud With N. Y. Rovers

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 14, 1932

Boston's Olympics and New York's Rovers, the two leading teams of the Eastern Amateur League, renew their ice feud tonight at the Garden, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

The five with a streak of six straight, will seek to equal their early season string of seven and at the same time hand the New Yorkers their fifth loss in as many starts with the locals. Both teams have met four times, twice here and the same number in New York, and on each occasion the O's finished on top.

It will be the fifth and final meeting of the Walker Cup race for the two rivals. After tonight's meeting the Pies wind up this series Saturday night with Barmore.

It is expected that Tom Lockhart, president of the league who was in town Saturday night to see the Olympics win the first half race will be back, only this time he will bring with him the Walker Cup which will be given to the Boston club.

Although the O's have taken four in a row from the Rovers, they will be in for another tough session.

Cy Begler, Dan Sullivan and Eddie Barry who have been working as a third unit most of the year, will start in place of the Grand Old Diamond-Chatsworth wave.

Army Gets Ted On January 25

Teddy Williams will take his final Army examination at Ft. Snelling, Minn., Jan. 25 and will probably be inducted into service within a week or 10 days after that date, the kid notified the Red Sox in a letter which was received at Fenway Park yesterday.

Williams took his last examination at the draft board in Minneapolis last Thursday and was pronounced physically fit, but has to undergo a final checkup at the Army camp.

Ted was brief in his letter to the Red Sox, but he went on to say it was doubtful if he would be available for the Boston Baseball Writers' Dinner, which is scheduled for Jan. 28. Ted was to receive a trophy as the most valuable player in Boston for the 1931 season.

Derby Tickets

Plenty of good seats are still available for the Silver Skates Derby at the Boston Garden Sunday afternoon.

Tickets can be secured at the Boston Garden, Boston Arena, and at the James W. Brine, Inc. sporting goods store at 92 Summer st.

Bill to Increase Cut At Gotham Tracks

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 14 (INS)—

New York's race tracks patrons would pay the expenses of the State's local defense councils under a bill introduced in the Legislature today by Assemblyman Norman F. Penny, Republican.

The Penny bill would increase the State's "take" from pari mutuels from five to six per cent, with the estimated $1,500,000 additional revenue turned over to the counties for defense work. The track operators' share of the "take" would be cut from five to four per cent.

NO LUCK COWBOY. Johnny Mowers, Red Wings' goalie, was on the job as Bill Cowley, (No. 10) Bruins' top scorer, rifled a back-hander at the nets. Jimmy Orlando also gave it the old college try when he flung himself prone on the ice as the disc streaked by for the pipes. He missed but Mowers who played one of the best games seen this season at the Garden didn't. Roy Conacher (No. 9) and Eddie Wiseman of the Bruins are looking for the rebound that didn't come.

BRUINS TO PLAY FOR ARMY Hollett Scores for Baby Son

Major-General Thomas A. Terry, new commanding officer of the First Corps Area, was the guest of honor at the Bruins pre-game dinner . . . Gen. Terry made a personal appearance in order to thank Walter Brown, president of the Boston Garden, and Manager Art Ross of the Bruins for agreeing to promote a hockey night for the benefit of the Army Relief Society on Friday night February 6 . . . On that night, the Bruins will play a star-studded aggregation of former National Hockey League luminaries including Eddie Shore, King Clancy, Tiny Thompson, Red Horner, George Owen, Cy Westworth, Bill and Bud Cook, Frankie Boucher, Charlie Conacher, Joe Primeau, Herbie Lewis, Larry Aurie, and Cooney Weiland.

As an added attraction, the Boston Olympics will meet the Johanna Blue Birds in a regularly scheduled Eastern Amateur Hockey League contest . . . The entire proceeds will be donated to the Army Relief Fund, a most worthy charity . . . Unquestionably, the Boston Garden will be sold out for such a grand attraction . . . Here's a tip to hockey fans—get your tickets immediately . . . The seats will be priced from 55 cents to $2.20 and there will be some 5000 first balcony seats at $1.10.

CRAWFORD SITS OUT
 Jack Crawford, injured Bruin, watched the game from the press stand until the cold drove him down below . . . George Graham, who has "booked" the Bruins on all of their road trips for years, has been recalled to Canada by the C. P. R. . . . Ag Smith, who has been absent for three games, reappeared as a lineman . . . Carson Cooper, the old Bruin right winger, made the trip with the Red Wings. "Coop" has been scouting for Manager Jack Adams for years . . . He and Smilin' Jack were in a huddle with Jimmy Herberts last Saturday in Toronto.

The Red Wings showed to far better advantage than they did on their first trip here . . . In fact, Manager Adams now has every appearance of a coming hockey club . . . Realizing that their opponents were playing their eighth game in thirteen nights, the Bruins stepped into the Red Wings at every opportunity . . . Probably, it's just as well that they did . . . Bill Cowley and Ken Kilrea were sending all evening . . . In the second period, Cowley tossed his fellow-townsmen from Ottawa into the side boards and Kilrea was stunned for a few moments . . . Then, in the final chapter, Capt. "Dit" Clapper gave Jimmy Orlando the heave-ho into the boards.

With his usual modesty, Bill

Moe Berg, veteran catcher and coach of the Red Sox was granted his unconditional release today by Business Manager Eddie Collins. Moe made the request for his release in a letter to Collins that he might assume the duties of good-will ambassador to Central and South America.

Berg will be one of the leading figures in the Co-ordinator of Inter-America Affairs which is headed by Nelson Rockefeller. Moe is a linguist of renown and will make a valuable man in this branch of the government.

B. C. Hockey Star Enlists in Army

Another of Boston College's star athletes has volunteered his services to Uncle Sam.

Linden "Lindy" Blanchard, 187 pound Arlington sophomore who was a letterman guard on the Eagle grid machine last fall and regular right defenseman on the hockey team, was inducted into the Army Air Corps this morning.

Blanchard, because of poor vision, couldn't be a pilot but enlisted as a mechanic. He was sent to Ft. Devens, Mass. This week he'll be transferred to Jefferson Barracks, Jefferson, Miss., where he will undergo regular mechanical training.

LOOSLI HAILS AMERICANS AS BEST SKI RACERS, INSTRUCTORS IN WORLD

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

LAC BEAUPORT, Que., Jan. 13.—Skiing with Fritz Loosli, originator of the parallel technique and author of a book on the same subject, and now head of the famous Ski Hawk School of the Chateau Frontenac, at 30 degrees below zero was a true tribute to his style, for we were so engrossed in studying his methods that the severe cold did not keep us indoors.

Lured to Canada—the first time we skied outside of New England—as a result of reading his book, we more than benefited from the lessons we received and greatly improved our own skiing.

To know parallel skiing, one must know Loosli.

"Learning to ski should be simple and lots of fun, leaving out unnecessary details. If beginners are encouraged, they learn faster," he states.

This instructor's understanding of human nature is the real reason why he has attained success in his field. He has actually taken novices and taught them to execute parallel turns in a few days. However, he does not guarantee to teach every one in a week. It all depends upon the individual.

Fritz finds it more difficult to teach people who have done quite a bit of skiing on their own, because they have formed many bad habits which are hard to correct.

SYSTEM NOT NEW
The Ski Hawk School is conducted in an unconventional manner, but quicker results are obtained. Pupils do not have to stand in line, each one awaiting his or her turn to self-consciously attempt some maneuver that seems very mysterious. Those who want to work hard in the classes are given individual instruction, while others who do not seem to care, gradually learn to like the technique and soon want to learn rapidly. And Loosli knows that once a pupil really wants to learn, he will then begin to make headway.

Parallel skiing, of course, is really nothing new. It is the simplified method of teaching the "Pure Christie" as the fundamental turn, eliminating all stemming. The main principle to remember is that the turn should be made in smooth, sweeping motions, by shifting the weight without any apparent effort. The skis are kept close together and the turns are swung or linked in any direction by merely advancing the right or left ski enough, keeping the weight on the downhill ski.

Short, stocky Fritz Loosli is a 165-pound ball of energy on skis. He's 40 years old, but looks years younger. Possessing a captivating sense of humor, he's always happy.

Fritz was very much amused by an Englishman whom he saw skiing recently. This man wore a monocle while pursuing the art, and although his falls were plentiful, he somehow managed to keep the monocle in place.

Seeking new snow fields, this smiling schussler came to Canada from his home in Switzerland. After a few years of mushing around Sanf and Alberta, he started to develop his parallel technique at the Toronto Ski Club. The word began to spread that there was really something, and Fritz was then offered his present position as head of the Ski Hawk School at the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec.

"Jump, jump, jump! That's all they wanted to do in Canada 15 years ago; hence the art of downhill and slalom was slow in developing," said Fritz. "The best racers and instructors in the world are now the Americans."

"United States lads have been coached by the best European teachers, so they can now adapt these methods to their own style and terrain. Competitive spirit, so necessary to advancement in any sport, has always been keen in America."

"Cross-country skiing, great stuff! Skiers should go in for it for conditioning, as well as doing considerable climbing, too. But give me a tow! . . . I am glad to see the trails in America are being built wide. The development at Cannon Mountain sounds great to me and some day I hope to run all the trails there."

SKI SCRIBBLINGS: Reserve the evening of January 23rd for "Ski Three." There is magic in those words, a magic that has produced the best skiing film ever made. Comes word from Rockwell Stephens that sixteen ski clubs of Greater Boston are sponsoring the New England premiere of this movie in the New England Metropolitan Life Insurance Hall at Copple Square, the gross proceeds going to benefit a war relief society.

Tickets may be purchased at any local sporting goods store. We advise you to buy yours now, for this event will positively be a sell-out. The capacity is about 900. Here is a chance for all skiers to lead in National Defense.

"Ski Three" was made by Dr. Howard Frank, a California skier and camera expert. It is a full-length feature, taken in color and sound. More than a 1000 people recently viewed it at the University of California, with so many turned away that a repeat performance had to be given.

Charles Proctor, director of the Yosemite Park Ski School, declares it to be the best ski movie he has ever seen. So does Walter Prager, former Dartmouth Coach, now serving with the 57th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Washington. Don't miss it!

Boston School Sixes Clash

The Boston schoolboy hockey circuit returns to action tomorrow afternoon at the Garden with four games, the first starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Although it will be the loop's third round and the second week of play, Commerce and Rosindale will be opening their campaigns.

Commerce takes the ice first against Mechanic Arts and Rosindale, always up close in the District circuit, meets twice beat-on Charlestown in the second game.

Mechanics is picked over Commerce. Brighton, winner over Charlestown, is favored to whip Jamaica Plain in another District loop game. Jamaica was blanked 0-3 by South Boston last week. Roxbury Memorial and Dorchester, both losers in their openers, wind up the program.

Harvard Faces Brown Mermen

The Brown swimming team, paced by a group of sophomores from last year's undefeated freshman team, will open its season tonight against Harvard in the Harvard Indoor Athletic Building.

PEPPI EAGER TO END CAREER AS 'ALL' CHAMP

But for one defeat Tony Peppi would probably never be entered in the grand All-America ring finals at the Boston Garden a week from Monday night.

The North End flyweight, a tough little two-fisted gent, had grabbed just about all the local honors in swing last year and intended hanging up his gloves with the All-America tournament.

He coasted through the New England and entered the Eastern an over-confident youngster. The result was that he was kayoed in the first round.

Tony considered that defeat a blot on his record and determined to avenge that loss.

Since then he has married and is employed in a defense job. He has no intention of turning professional but he wants one more title before he retires from competition in the All-America finalist championship.

Immediately after work each day he hurries to the gym and works. He's now in perfect shape and is looking forward to the big event.

Tony coasted through the New England trials won the New England title and then captured the Eastern title.

Just one more obstacle is in his way and he intends removing that a week from Monday night.

Louis Gives Check to Navy

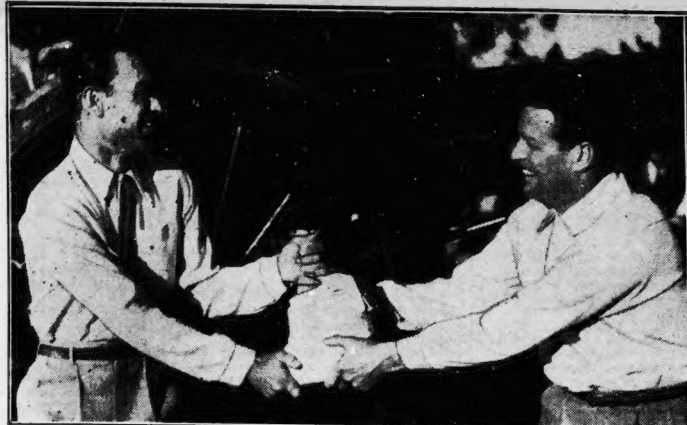

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (INS)—

Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis accompanied by Promoter Mike Jacobs, visited the offices of the Navy Relief Society here and presented it with a check for $39,922.01 as its share of the proceeds of last Friday night's benefit fight between Louis and Buddy Baer at Madison Square Garden.

Louis presented the check to Admiral Adolphus Andrews, commandant of the 3d Naval District. The society announced that the breakdown of the receipts showed that Louis had given a purse of $47,400.91; that Promoter Jacobs' share amounted to $37,229.95; that Baer had contributed $408,111 and that the ring officials had turned over $450 of their pay and the preliminary boys had added $230 to the cause.

LAST FLING—Joe Louis made one last round of favorite dance spots before joining Uncle Sam's Army for active duty today. He is pictured signing autographs for chorus girls at the Ubangi Club. Joe solidified his hold on the World Heavyweight Title by knocking out Buddy Baer in one round in a bout in which he donated his entire purse to the Navy Fund.

BIG $$$ TUG O' WAR—Ben Hogan, left, and Jimmy Thomson stage a little friendly tug o' war for the big prize money after finishing in a tie at Los Angeles. Hogan won in the play-off, with a flawless 72 to Thomson's 73. The win gave Ben some $3500, with $1700 for Thomson.

Pacino Signed To Meet Dubois At Mechanics

Larry Pacino, new Roxbury flatie idol, was signed yesterday to fight in one of the six-round bouts on the Boston Boxing Ass'n show next Friday night at Mechanics Building when another favorite from that district, Frankie Nelson, collides with Henry Cholewiski, Cambridge, in the 10-round feature bout.

Pacino will clash with a tough customer, Jack "Wild Man" Dubois, the Flying Frenchman from Portland, Me. This is probably Pacino's toughest fight since turning pro, after a near-sweep of amateur titles including the All-America middleweight crown.

Dubois is a rough, tough youngster who throws plenty of punches and has a style difficult to decipher. Pacino will be in line for some bigger and better opposition, possibly either Nelson or Chimmy, if he comes through as convincingly against Dubois as he has against the rivals thrown at him to date.

'The Angel' Faces Indian Tonight

The year's biggest wrestling show is on the docket for tonight, when The Angel defends his title against Chief Osley Saunooke, 300 pound Cherokee Indian at the Arena.

A share of the gross receipts will be donated to the soldiers of the New England frontier defense sector, commanded by Maj.-Gen. Thomas A. Terry. General Terry and a party of officers will see the show.

The show is unusual in that the main bout will be handled by Jack Sharkey, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world. The naming of Sharkey came about when The Angel protested he would accept none of the men who have been refereeing here, because all have seemed to favor Saunooke. The Angel will enter the ring the favorite.

Chief Osley Saunooke, Cherokee, N. C., vs. The Angel, France, world's champion. Steve (Crusier) Casey, former world's champion, vs. "Sliding" Bill Hansen, Salt Lake City.

Ginger, the wrestling bear, vs. Ted Germaine, South Boston. Pete Baitran, Lithuania, vs. El Diablo, The Man in the Green Mask. Leo Henning, Australia, vs. Leo Numa, Seattle.

Leo Wykoff, Kansas, vs. George Lindsay, Wyandand. First Bout at 8:15. Main Bout at 10 o'clock.
